My friend T. A. Woods has returned from a trip to Detroit, Chicago, and into the old home state of Missouri, where he visited with old friends and made observations as to crop conditions. Wheat, not so good as expected due to black rust. Corn, plentiful but nothing to feed it to, as there was a slaughter of the pigs some several years ago, and no rehabilitation since that time sufficient to use up the corn surplus. Farmers are fairly happy but far from prosperous. With all of the discouragements, conditions are the most favorable for the past five or six years. Normally, after getting the jolt it did, does not return in one season.

What's all the prattle about Chief Howard spending a dollar for breakfast, if he did? That item in an expense account these days is as infinitesimal as a grain of sand at Newport Beach. Many other departments of government would blush to record such a miniature expenditure. But when it comes to a local charge it magnifies itself into an expense of major proportions, or at least major imagination. What the chief should do, economically calculating, would be to carry his own lunch, and then if he takes my advice throw it away and buy what he d—pleases. I'm nauseated over such economic piffle.

The Newport-Balboa Tournament of Lights is scheduled for Saturday night. Naturally it would have to be night if they had any use for lights, and that's what makes the show. I haven't been a spectator of that event for a number of years, for the reason there has always been many people around me that the crowd frightened me. So, I feel like Bill Rogers in one respect at least. All I know about it is what I read in the newspapers.

Intermittently a piece of illuminating information crosses my pathway. Recently Bert Castex has been introduced as a dahlia wizard. I am glad to learn of his accomplishment. It has been no secret to me for sometime that Mrs. Castex was a devoted floriculturist. I'm wrong about half the time, and if Bert is right the other half that makes a whole lot out of a misunderstanding. Bert has neglected to take me into his confidence about dahlias, but I have shared his secrets on some of his other accomplishments.

And then there was the fellow who went home profusely illuminated who asked everybody in the house to help him find his own room.

Supervisors Lop $117,000 From County's Budget

Supervisors slashed $117,000 off the county budget today, lopping the proposed tax rate six and one-third cents, with more savings indicated as the axe continued to swing this afternoon.

Savings effected this morning dropped the tentative tax rate from 88 cents per $100 valuation inside cities and 93 cents outside to 81½ cents inside and 86½ cents outside.

EARTHQUAKE HITS MANILA REFUGEES

Many Injured as
City in Darkness

MANILA, P. I. (AP)—Two sharp earthquakes threw Manila into darkness tonight in a terrifying welcome to American refugees from war-torn Shanghai.

Manila residents fled from homes and hotels into the darkened streets, on many of which light wires lay in a tangled mass. Many fires started by the shocks, the worst of 40 years, added to the panic.

Several large buildings and a number of churches were damaged. Other major structures swayed noticeably. Many injured but no deaths were reported during the confusion following the first shock about 8 p. m. The second tremor added new terror 20 minutes later. The shocks were felt at least 200 miles away.

Most terrified by the rumbling and shaking of the earth were the 376 refugees arriving aboard the President Jefferson to a supposed haven after their terrifying experiences in Shanghai.

The refugees had scarcely landed when the quake struck. Delayed more than an hour and a half at the breakwater, the eyes of many of the women refugees brimmed with tears of joy as the liner pulled into its pier.

They had left a city of death behind and were greeted by the lively tunes of a United States army band and the blazing lights of Manila.

Rats Mobilize for New War on S. A.

Thousands upon thousands of voracious rats crawled in their nests today, feeding up their nightly prowls in stores and homes of Santa Ana. Tonight they will set out to break their record of three-quarters of a million dollars damage they did in this city last year.

More than 70,000 rats in Santa Ana now. But Uncle Sam has refused to help the city any longer in stamping them out, so before long there will be millions of the evil creatures swarming in the city.

260,000 KILLED
The rats can have the city of Santa Ana, so far as Uncle Sam is concerned. He's tired of helping the city exterminate the pests. And besides, the government says it's illegal to spend public money for killing rats on private property, although it's been done here for the past four years.

In fact, government funds have been spent to trap and poison 260,

544 rats under WPA projects in the last four years. But the rats multiply so fast that the best a crew of trappers numbering up to 30 men could just about keep the rat population stationary. What will happen now, since the extermination project has ended?

MULTIPLY RAPIDLY
Rats of the species most prevalent in Santa Ana produce litters of rats from three to five times a year. These rats mature in about three months, and begin production of more rats. The number is limited only by the food supply and opportunity for nesting. It is estimated that there are about two rats for every human being counting health officials told The Journal. This means that there are at least 70,000 rats in Santa Ana.

One pair of rats in a period of five years, if none of the offspring died from disease and were not controlled, could produce 945,000,000 rats!

Rats are so thick here that not long ago 11 small ones were caught by trappers in a single trap. Every day the health department gets calls from citizens, who want the department to clean out the rats in their homes and stores.

DESTROY PROPERTY
City Councilman Plummer Bruns is perturbed over the situation, and on authority of the city council is making an investigation into the matter of why the government feels that it cannot further help Santa Ana kill off its rats.

Rats consume food worth at least $2 every year. This means a loss of at least $140,000 a year in this city, besides the property damage which amounts to at least $4 per rat annually. This brings the total damage from rats up to $700,000 a year right now. The figure will soar skyward now that control measures have been halted.

Congress Nearing End, Sends Tax Bill to FR

LOOPHOLES IN LAWS TO BE PLUGGED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A bill to seal loopholes in the revenue laws as a means of preventing tax avoidance and evasion received final congressional approval today and went to the White House for the President's signature.

The house completed congressional action by approving minor senate amendments.

Mr. Roosevelt had requested the measure when he found revenue falling below expectations. He said wealthy persons had been able to save from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 a year by tax devices the new law will make illegal.

The bill first attacks the practice of forming personal holding companies, by levying a tax from 65 to 75 per cent on the undistributed income from such firms. The rates have been 8 to 48 per cent.

The bill also is designed to: Prevent deduction from net income of any losses caused by sales or trades between relatives or corporations they control.

Stop the practice of individuals incorporating their personal talents and possessions — such as yachts and country estates — to avoid taxes.

Curb the use of foreign holding companies by a new system of computing their gross income.

Tax the income of multiple trusts, now allegedly used to scatter the taxable income of one person.

Increase levies on the income of non-resident aliens.

The treasury department now has a corps of experts studying the whole federal tax law structure. The department will take their findings, officials said, as a basis for recommendations for a general overhauling at the next session of congress.

The special loophole-closing legislation was asked by Mr. Roosevelt as an emergency measure, before any general revision could be drafted.

I'll Tell You By BOB BURNS

The reason I moved out in the country is because my nerves were beginnin' to get frayed and ragged like the other people in the city. In the city, it's hustle and bustle from the time you get up in the morning until the time you go to bed at night and it's no wonder that your nerves get jumpy. I declare I've seen some city men just fly in a rage because they missed one turn in a revolv' door. You never see 'em like that down home.

Grandpaw Snazzy was drivin' a load of hay down a narrow road one day and he met his neighbor, Knut Strupe, comin' from the other direction on another load of hay. Neither one of 'em would back up to let the other one by. Finally Knut says, "Well, I'm prepared to stay here as long as you do" and he took out a newspaper and started to read very calmly.

Grandpaw Snazzy filled his pipe and lit it and he sat there smokin' for about an hour and finally he looked up and says, "Knut, wouldja mind lettin' me have the paper when you're through readin' it?"

EXPECT SESSION TO END SOON

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Congressional leaders virtually abandoned hope of adjourning congress tonight when senate-house conference committees failed to reach an agreement on the important Wagner housing bill.

House Leader Rayburn told reporters a resolution for adjournment tonight definitely would not be brought before the house.

He said he had told Senate Leader Barkley it would be impossible to adjourn before tomorrow and Barkley had agreed with him.

"I want to adjourn the house tomorrow before sundown," Rayburn said. "I hope we won't have a night session for the last session."

He spoke of a possibility of winding up the work of the house somewhere between 2 and 5 o'clock tomorrow.

Senator Walsh (D., Mass.), ranking senate member of the housing bill conference, had said the committee probably would not reach an agreement before tomorrow.

"It can't be done," he said, when informed that leaders wanted to wind up the session tonight if agreement could first be reached on the housing bill.

When the senate met today, Barkley had said there was "a chance" of an adjournment to-night if conferees on the housing bill reached an agreement.

M'ADOO HURLS LIE CHARGE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Sen. William Gibbs McAdoo of California accused Rep. Byron N. Scott of Long Beach today of "deliberate falsification" in contending the recent removal of a United States attorney at Los Angeles was maneuvered by the senator's law partner, William H. Neblett.

McAdoo made the accusation in a letter to the congressman, which the senator later handed to reporters.

"Your statement about Mr. Neblett having had anything to do with this appointment is a deliberate falsification," McAdoo wrote Scott. "I purposely refrain from using the stronger term which would more accurately describe it."

Anti-Aircraft Shot Rain on Flagship During Fierce War

By JAMES A. MILLS

SHANGHAI. (AP)—An American sailor was killed tonight and 18 were wounded when the cruiser Augusta, flagship of the United States Asiatic fleet, was struck by an anti-aircraft shell in the midst of terrific Chinese-Japanese artillery and aerial warfare along the Whangpoo river.

Fires crackled in a fourth of all Shanghai at the time. The one-inch projectile—of undetermined origin—plunged from a high angle onto the cruiser's after well deck.

The sailor killed was Freddie John Falgout of Raceland, La. The American flagship, which has been lying in the Whangpoo a little below the heart of Shanghai to cover evacuation of some 2000 American refugees, was struck at 6:40 p. m., while most of the officers and crew were at mess. Otherwise casualties probably would have been greater.

FIREE ARTILLERY DUEL
One fourth of Shanghai was burning, the result of savage Chinese air bombings of Japanese properties in Pootung and the Chinese regular army were reported engaged in the sweeping attack against the Japanese. While two parallel columns struck northward against Peiping and Tientsin, a third army was holding the Japanese at bay in the Great Wall pass just north of Nankow.

Behind this northern army at Nankow, another was sweeping to the east to cut off the Japanese rear and isolate them in the northeast second of Hopei province, where they have consolidated their control.

ANAHEIM WOMAN SAFE
May P. Forman, 225 South Los Angeles street, Anaheim, was reported safe in Kobe, Japan, today, in a party of 95 American Nationals evacuated from Shanghai last Monday. The large group of refugees, all Southern California residents, were rushed from the scene of fighting in the Fatsuta Maru, a Japanese liner.

FIGHTS FOR $3600 YEARLY INSURANCE

Total Disability Is Claimed By Plaintiff

Asking judgment for disability payments of $300 a month, Willis H. Tracy today started suit in superior court against the Travelers Insurance company under terms of three policies.

Tracy alleges he holds three $10,000 policies with the company, each of which provides for $100 a month total disability benefits. He is afflicted with chronic hyper-trophic arthritis, he alleges, which is permanent and incurable.

The company, Tracy alleges, paid him under the policies from September, 1929, when he first was afflicted with the disease, until November, 1936, when company doctors told him he was able to return to work. On April 1, 1937, he alleges, he was again stricken and is unable to work. He was earning $10,000 a year previous to being taken sick, he says. He asks that the court adjudge him permanently disabled and award the company to pay him $300 a month on the policies.

U. S. JEWS BOLT PARLEY ON PALESTINE

ZURICH, Switzerland. (AP)—The American non-Zionist delegation bolted a session of the political committee of the Jewish Agency for Palestine today in a dispute over the British plan to partition Palestine into sovereign Jewish and Arabian states.

The Americans, led by Felix M. Warburg, the New York banker-philanthropist, withdrew after the committee voted to recommend ratification of a Zionist congress resolution that would open the way for negotiations with Britain on the partition scheme.

The withdrawal was staged as a protest against a ruling by the chairman, Prof. M. Speyer of Brussels university, which halted debate on the proposal.

Warburg demanded that the vote be postponed until just before the agency's council meeting later today so he might clarify his group's opposition to ratification of the congress resolution.

The American group favors negotiations with Arab leaders—not Britain—for establishment of a single Arabian-Jewish state in Palestine, Warburg said.

The Zionist general council has not yet authorized negotiations with the British government but is studying that possibility as ordered recently by the Zionist congress.

Two days ago Warburg warned that non-Zionist American Jews would withdraw cooperation from the Zionists if the negotiations were authorized.

Sanford Tax Trial Set for Oct. 18

Joe Sanford, Orange automobile dealer charged with six counts of falsifying state sales tax reports, will go on trial before a superior court jury Oct. 13.

Sanford entered a plea of not guilty today before Superior Judge James L. Allen and asked for a jury trial. He was arrested after investigation by state board of equalization officers, who charged he made six false sales tax returns on car sales.

NEW PENSION HIGH SEEN

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Nearly 11,000 persons past 65 years of age are expected to enroll for California's new old-age pension within the next few weeks, Rex Thomson, county superintendent of charities, said today.

The law does not become effective until Sept. 1. Yesterday, the first registration day, 500 enrolled. Thomson said he expected that the county pension list will be swelled to an all-time high of 35,000 by Jan. 1.

Under the new law, both man and wife are eligible for pensions of $35 each, provided they are more than 65 and own no property assessed above $3000. Pensions will average about $33 a month. The law allows a subsidiary income of $15 a month, thus permitting a total income of $100 a month a couple.

STORE BURGLAR GETS $53

The Continental Grocery store, 109 East Seventeenth street, was short $53.74 today. Burglars did it.

D. W. Wilson, manager of the store, reported to police yesterday that someone burglarized the store Wednesday night after gaining entrance through a rear window. Detective Lieutenant C. W. NEWBERT TO ESCAPE 5-CENT TAX

Residents of the Newbert Protection district were freed today from a five-cent tax rate, as Orange county agreed to take over maintenance and necessary construction work on the Santa Ana river in that area.

This morning, supervisors decided that the district directors, with Newbert district directors, will purchase from the district a dredger, tractors, and other items of equipment, thereby giving the district funds with which to meet any emergency during the fiscal year.

The district has voted to disband and turn its protection work over to the county, but it cannot legally disband until the legislature passes an enabling act, which it neglected to do at the last session. The district had decided on a $1500 budget to take care of emergencies and necessary work this year, entailing a tax rate of five cents.

The supervisors' decision this morning, however, assured the district that all flood protection work will be done by the county flood control district, Franklin West, attorney for the district, cancelled the request for the tax rate.

COUNTY GETS $91,667 TO AID AGED

A $91,667 present for Orange county oldsters reposed in the county treasury today, Welfare Director Jack W. Snow said, as the first advance payments of federal and state old age security funds were received.

On the basis of estimated requirements, the federal government has allocated $48,762.67 for July and August, and state funds total $42,905 for July, August and September.

Formerly the county had to pay old age security checks out of the treasury and wait from three to 12 months for reimbursement from state and federal funds. New legislation to provide payment to the county in advance of federal and state shares was determined when the burden became too great for many California counties.

A combined federal and state reimbursement of children's aid amounting to $13,657.92, covering the six months from July to Dec. 1, 1936, also has been received, Snow said.

E. F. Canby, 71, Fuller Park, went to the county hospital for observation today as Superior Judge James L. Allen ordered his hearing on probation for sex crimes continued to Oct. 15.

Canby had pleaded guilty to charges involving two boys, 13 and 14 years old, and had asked probation.

3 DISEASES THREATEN U. S. LIVESTOCK

Hogs, Horses, Cattle
Suffer in Epidemic

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Unusually severe outbreaks of three sporadic livestock diseases, government experts said today, are taking a heavy toll this year of cattle, horses and hogs on farms in the nation's interior.

The diseases are anthrax, which has a high mortality rate among cattle and horses, equine sleeping sickness which is fatal to many horses, and swine erysipelas, less fatal, but a serious hog scourge. The trio cause annual losses of millions of dollars to farmers and stock men, Dr. Louis Guitner, agriculture department scientist, said, with outbreaks this season above average.

Guitner said anthrax and the sleeping sickness usually were more severe in "good seasons when there has been plenty of rainfall and moisture."

The sleeping sickness is a disease of the brain and spinal cord the veterinary said, and usually is found in areas where mosquitoes are numerous. The first frost, ending the mosquito season, usually terminates the outbreak.

College Head Loses License

BOSTON, (AP)—Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, 80, president emeritus of Harvard University, today lost his license to operate a motor vehicle on Massachusetts highways. Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin announced he had "indefinitely suspended" Dr. Lowell's permit to drive "because of two automobile accidents Aug. 1."

Goodwin said he acted after one of his inspectors, John H. Dolan, had reported Lowell was at fault in an accident while en route to Boston from the Lowell summer home in Cuttitt, and at fault again in a collision that same day while on the return trip.

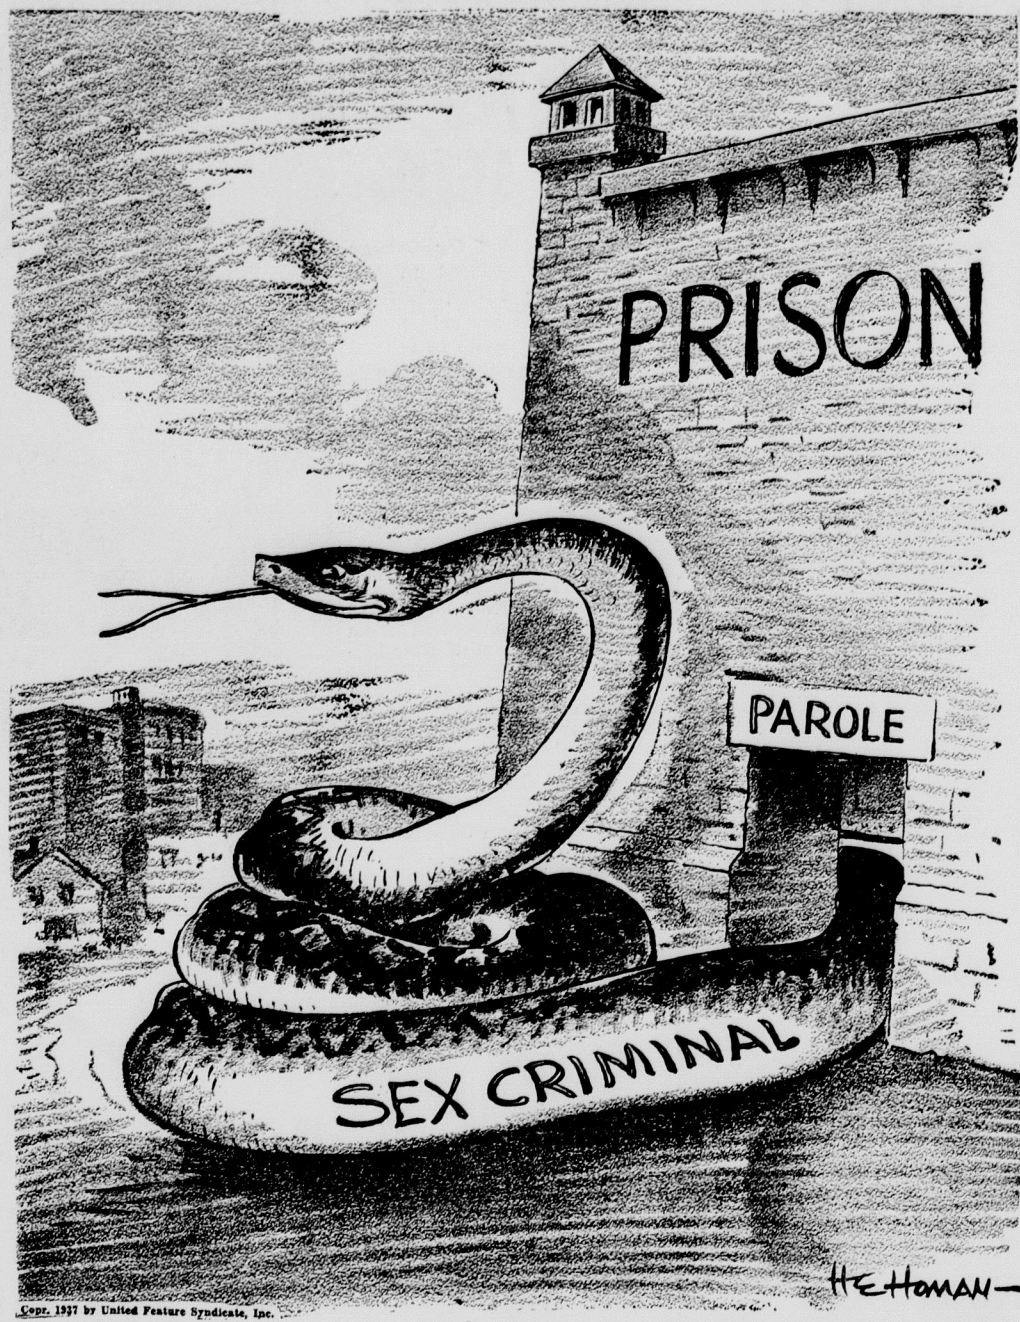

Cholera Menaces Hongkong Area

HONGKONG, (AP)—A cholera epidemic menaced an area of several hundred square miles on the South China coast today, including this British haven for refugees from the Shanghai warfare.

The plague struck the Hongkong crown colony, spread to the Portuguese colony of Macao, on a mainland peninsula, and reached on up the Pearl river to Canton, China.

Of 136 reported cases of cholera last week, 82 already have been fatal. The epidemic caused 19 deaths the week before.

READY TO STRIKE AGAIN

Longest Jury Trial Near End

RIVERSIDE, (AP)—Possibly the longest jury trial in California, costing $200,000, reached its 138th day yesterday as Superior Judge G. R. Freeman began reading instructions to the jury.

The trial is in the suit of the Metropolitan Water district against more than 100 property owners for condemnation of land situated at the site of the Cajalco retaining reservoir of the Colorado river aqueduct near here. So far, the trial records have filed 36 typewritten volumes.

Lawyers estimated today that about four days will be required for argument, and the jury will begin deliberations on the value of the land next Thursday.

Mrs. FDR Gets Sweetheart Title

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt acquired a new sobriquet today—"the sweetheart of all the world."

It was gallantly conferred on her by Policeman Michael Karpelman.

The President's wife, driving a coupe, had pulled up to the curb to ask him the way to Providence, R. I. The policeman beckoned to Traffic Officer James Sammon. "Jimmy," said Karpelman, "I wouldn't have you miss this for anything. Meet the sweetheart of all the world."

Mrs. Roosevelt graciously accepted the tribute with a laugh, shook hands with both policemen and drove away.

LEPER FIGHT LEADER LEAVES

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Moved by the plight of a leper child who died at his hospital, Dr. R. E. Wilson, an American surgeon, began a fight against the dread disease that has occupied all his time for the last 30 years.

Superintendent of the famous Biederwolf Leper Colony in Soon-chun, Korea, Dr. Wilson, nearing the end of one year's sabbatical leave, will sail Saturday for the Orient to resume his work. He has been visiting here, likes it, yet is eager to get back on the job. He has many interesting things to say of leprosy. Among them:

"Contrary to general opinion, leprosy does not cause death and is not readily contracted. Its causes are high humidity and poor sanitation. Its results vary. The disease is only indirectly related to death, in that it reduces resistance and makes way for other ailments.

"Leprosy rarely affects white men because they have the benefit of proper sanitation. My assistants and I have no fear of contagion, although much of our work is done by 30 cured leper managers."

Dr. Wilson says the Biederwolf Colony's people are the happiest in the world. They are busy with work, with athletics, and with maintaining clean, airy homes. Few, he says, are forced to enter the colony, and then only by the dictates of their fellow villagers who drive them from their midst, making dependence on the colony necessary. Acute cases are treated separately until they can mingle with other patients.

"Marriages are performed between cured couples," says Dr. Wilson. "Males are sterilized. To offset this, the newlyweds are given custody of a cured leper child to complete the family. Our colony maintains an annual average of 750 lepers, releasing 100 yearly. Crippled by disease, many remain in the colony after the cure."

Doors of Mudie's Library Shut

LONDON, (American Wire)—Mudie's library, famous in the Gilbert and Sullivan days, has closed its doors.

Charles Edward Mudie founded the library in 1842. It became a liability company in 1864 and in 1888 had 40,000 subscribers and 6,000,000 books. Mudie died in 1890.

It is said here that Mudie's library was unable to keep pace with the new libraries and methods which sprang up. For many years it meant that if Mudie banned a book, the book would probably become extinct.

Escalator Takes Scotchman's Kilt

LONDON, (AP)—More than 20,000,000 people rode London's underground railways during coronation week—and the best story is of the jaunty Highlander who lost his kilt.

The Highlander rode an escalator while sitting on one of the steps. There was a loud ripping noise. The kilt went up while the Scot continued down.

It was all very embarrassing until someone loaned the Scot a coat, inasmuch as crowds before and behind made it impossible to retrieve the kilt.

TELLS NEED TO ADJUST FARM LABOR

California agriculture demands an annual seasonal labor need of 22,500,000 man days, with the maximum need coming in the months of August, September and October, according to a two-year study of farm labor situation just completed by Dr. R. L. Adams, professor of farm management in the University of California.

In the report of the study just received by the farm advisor's office here, it is stated that the state needs 59,000 transient or migratory workers in the months of November to April, 100,000 from May to July and 134,000 from August to October. The peak month is September, when 144,700 such workers are needed.

SEASONAL JOBS
It was pointed out, however, that less than 45,000 workers can be given year-round employment because of the varying nature of the required tasks and the widely separated areas offering employment. Because of this situation establishment of permanent residences is obviously attended with difficulty.

Fruit and truck crops require the greatest need for seasonal labor. The minimum need is in field crops, with the exception of sugar beets, cotton and hops.

A thorough study of the situation for the purpose of obtaining basic data is urgently needed if any sort of uniformity is to be brought out of the present disorganized state of the migratory labor market, Dr. Adams said.

STABILITY NEEDED
The basic thought is to analyze the possibilities of stabilizing labor conditions along lines of more continuous work, better living conditions and a more stable labor supply, under as good wage conditions as can be provided with prevailing economic conditions.

The fact that certain wage scales are higher this year than they were last cannot be attributed to any labor shortage but to better return to farmers and their willingness to share some of the benefits with the workers, Dr. Adams said.

Health Expert Protects FDR From Mosquitoes

MANTEO, N. C. (AP)—R. F. Hill, Jr., was proud as a peacock today. The director of the one-man committee appointed by the state board of health to see to it that not a single mosquito tampered with President Roosevelt while he viewed the drama of the "Lost Colony" reported abundant success.

Said Mr. Hill, who incidentally is an assistant administrator of the health board's malarial control program:

"I was standing within 20 feet of the President as he viewed the outdoor drama, and if he slapped at one single mosquito or scratched a bite, I didn't see him."

In the drive for presidential immunity, insecticide was sprayed throughout the theater before the play began.

Pekingese Gets Permanent Wag From Wringer

BERKELEY, (AP)—Mrs. Consistence Tsakiris' Pekingese pup was without the usual smart curl to its tail today.

A washing machine did the trick.

The pup hopped onto the machine and brushed its tail against the moving wringer. Its shrill howls brought Mrs. Tsakiris on the turn. She summoned police who freed the dog by dismantling the wringer.

The pup's tail was bruised but unbroken.

Girl, 13, Studies To Become Bride

"Why, I've been learning to cook and keep house for four months," she said. "We're going to set up house for ourselves as soon as Edwin gets a job."

The bride's mother-in-law said the marriage had been approved by the girl's mother, Mrs. Bert Brouhard, Beattie, Kan.

New $10,000 Crime Detection Laboratory Success in N. Y.

NEW YORK, (American Wire)—Crime detection by scientific apparatus has reached a new high in efficiency in $10,000 of new equipment recently added to the technical research laboratory of the New York city police department. The laboratory has already figured in the investigation of 70 per cent of the major crimes of the city.

Among the new instruments is a big spectrograph which is used in making rapid investigations of the composition of substances, especially those which contain metallic elements, such as paints.

Several months ago near a man struck by a hit-and-run driver, a bit of metal from the auto was found. The technician from the laboratory, Detective John Lafferty, also noted that tire and skid marks led to a park bench which evidently had been damaged by the same car.

Lafferty also observed that the metal framework of the bench was of a silvery color and that some of the paint had been scrapped off in the collision.

There were no eye-witnesses and the victim only knew that the car that struck him was a coupe. Working fast, police found a coupe parked about a mile from the scene of the accident. The occupant denied having struck anybody.

Lafferty found that the piece of metal fitted an empty place on the coupe's radiator. Moreover, on the front license plate were silvery marks. The technical research laboratory's analysis showed the paint on the bench and the license stains both contained the same aluminum pigment. The driver was convicted and sentenced to jail.

Daylight Bank Robber Escapes

PRODUCERS RUN OWN FARM SHOW

Producers of fruits, vegetables, nuts and dairy products really run their own show when it comes to marketing agreement programs provided in the new marketing agreement act of 1937, according to a statement from the farm advisor's office, representing the United States department of agriculture in Orange county.

Under this act, which is being administered by the Agricultural Adjustment administration, the producers have final say as to whether the provisions of a marketing agreement shall apply to all the handlers of their product in the producing or marketing area.

TWO-THIRDS VOTE

By a two-thirds vote of those producing the commodity involved, or those representing two-thirds of the volume of the commodity produced, or in the case of California citrus, 80 per cent, producers may enable the secretary of agriculture to issue an order to accompany the marketing agreement, making the program binding upon any minority group of shippers or handlers refusing to participate in the cooperative marketing movement.

Under the law, the marketing agreement and order comprise component parts of a single program—a marketing agreement program—which is designed to control or regulate certain phases of interstate commerce in an agricultural commodity for the particular region or marketing area for which the program is developed. The marketing agreement is a voluntary contract between handlers of a particular commodity and the secretary of agriculture.

ORDER EXPLAINED
In those instances where it is desirable to regulate all the commodity in the marketing area, the secretary of agriculture is authorized to issue orders. The order is in the nature of a regulation making the provisions of the agreement applicable to all handlers of the commodity.

In connection with putting marketing agreement programs into effect, the act continues the requirements as to signature of an agreement by handlers and determination by the secretary of producers' approval of the issuance of orders. As pointed out, the marketing agreement act authorizes a referendum among producers to ascertain their sentiment. Under this additional provision, if the results of the referendum disclose that the percentage of those producers participating in the referendum who favor the order is equal to or greater than the required percentage, then the approval requirement is met.

A vain effort to shoot at the fleeing robber, said the man left the bank with around $10,000 but that $5000 was recovered outside.

'DUST BOWL' INDIGENT THREAT TOLD

L. A. Seeks Protection From Homeless Folks

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Los Angeles county must take steps immediately to protect itself against further influx of indigent transients from the "Dust Bowl" states, Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough declared today in a statement made after a survey of transient camps as "worse than those of nomad tribes."

He said thousands of penniless have settled in San Joaquin Valley where they are subject to "extreme unsanitary conditions." McDonough urged early construction of communities similar to the federal resettlement project at Shafter, in San Joaquin Valley. He said the transient influx here may become aggravated this fall when the cold weather strikes the eastern states.

Heil Accuses Wife Of Posing as Another's Spouse

Charles F. Heil, vice president of the Excelsior Creamery company and owner of extensive Orange county citrus properties, today had on file in Los Angeles a suit for divorce, claiming that his wife, Mrs. Helen B. Walters Heil, humiliated him when she appeared at the recent induction into office of her ex-husband, Judge Byron J. Walters.

Heil charges that his wife posed as the Los Angeles municipal judge's wife, took an active part in the ceremony, and "pretended to the public" that they were still married.

Both Judge Walters and Mrs. Heil denied Heil's allegation, the Associated Press reported. Heil now lives in Long Beach.

Heil also charged that Mrs. Heil had forced him to rent a separate apartment for himself and had induced him to make a $30,000 settlement on her. He demanded its return.

Children to Give 4-Square Sermons

Four children from the Four Square church, Sycamore and Fairview streets, will present a special program in the church this evening, with both music and devotionals led by the young people.

Speakers will be Betty Jo Williams talking on the "Second Coming of Christ," Betty May discussing "Salvation," Norma Jean Dierdorf speaking on "Divine Healing" and Dorothy Rosemyer using "Holy Spirit" as a topic.

Dr. Charles William Walkem, radio manager for Angelus temple, will deliver the sermon at both the morning and evening services in the local Four Square church Sunday.

Writer Faces Jail Sentence

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—William F. James, 39, a writer, faced sentence today on Aug. 27 after his conviction on seven charges involving fictitious checks totaling $1250. His wife, Margaret Irving, stage and screen actress, collapsed when the verdict was returned. James allegedly used the name of Mervyn Leroy, screen director, in passing the checks.

Famous Displays New Motor Glide

The aero model motor glide, an innovation in cheap transportation, is now being shown at the Famous Department store, according to Manager George J. Kidd. Heretofore seen in Hollywood and Florida almost exclusively, the motor glide delivers 153 miles per gallon of gas and has a top speed of 30 miles an hour.

Gentleman Usher to King Can't Explain Title

SEATTLE. (AP)—Sir Louis Grieg, K. B. E., and Gentleman Usher in Ordinary to King George VI, confessed today he did not know what the "in ordinary" meant in his title.

With the aid of his wife and one of his two attractive daughters, he explained the duties of a gentleman usher:

"I hand out cards and things. Quite simple. Ceremony, of course. I show people where to go."

The K. B. E. stands for knight of the British empire.

Growers Seek High Grape Price

FONTANA, Calif. (AP)—Southern California growers demanded today a minimum of $25 a ton for the 1937 wine grape crop, estimated at 700,000 tons.

A representative of the California Wine Institute, Louis R. Gomborg of San Francisco, advised 125 growers at a meeting here last night that the state's crop apparently would be short 200,000 tons.

1100 AT ALPHA BETA PICNIC

More than 1100 persons last night gathered in a reserved section of Anaheim park for the annual picnic of employees of the Alpha Beta stores and their families, sponsored by the company.

A picnic dinner was served to the group, with entertainment during the evening furnished by Ole Hanson and his eight-piece clown band. Willard Bassett, recent winner of an amateur contest, sang a solo.

Games included a baseball game between the Downey All-Stars and Alpha Beta. Nail-driving contests, tugs of war, and races completed the entertainment.

Seek to Annul Child Marriage

MARTINEZ. (AP)—A suit asking annulment of the three-day marriage of 13-year-old Cleone Goad, grade school pupil, and Leonard Newlin, 30, was on today's docket in the court of Superior Judge A. F. Bray.

Cleone's mother, Mrs. Gertrude Goad Newlin, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, sought the annulment after she and Newlin were arrested and had pleaded guilty to perjury charges in connection with the issuance of the marriage license. Cleone's age on the license was given as 16.

The court also ordered the mother and the bridegroom to appear today for a hearing on their probation plea.

Runaway Son of Poets Returns

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Ralph Cheyney, eight, was safe at home today with his parents, Ralph Cheyney and Lucile Trent.

The lad disappeared Wednesday afternoon with the announcement he was going to "run away to a mountain hideout." Searchers scoured the Sierra Madre mountains.

Ralph returned late yesterday, telling his parents he had spent the night on the porch of a parish house.

L. A. Education Leader Succumbs

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Charles F. Seaman, trustee of the University of Southern California and from 1920 to 1923 president of the Los Angeles board of education, died at his home here yesterday. Seventy years of age, he established the department of industry and economics at the University of Vermont. He was a native of Nova Scotia.

Open Mammoth Mining Project

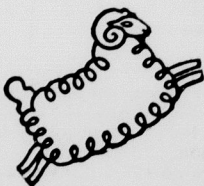

BAKERSFIELD. (AP)—A mammoth project was planned today for the Yellow Aster mine, once one of the richest producers of gold in the west.

The Anglo-American Mining company announced it would remove 6,000,000 tons of rock at the property. Three years will be required to put the ore through the stamp mills.

Air Corps Head Visits in L. A.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Commander of the United States army air corps, Major General Oscar Westover was a visitor in Los Angeles today. He will remain here until next week, inspecting government plans under construction in Southern California factories.

PENSION LIST FOR AGED DUE TO RISE

33 Per Cent Increase
Is Expected Here

Orange county's old age pension list is headed for a 33 per cent increase this fall.

Approximately 600 needy aged persons are expected to be added to the present total of 1713. The increase will result from the liberalized old age pension law adopted by California this year. Among other changes the new law removes necessity of old folks giving the county liens on their property in order to secure pensions.

READY FOR INCREASE

The big increase in the pension list was forecast in figures made public today by Jack Snow, director of the county welfare department here.

Already Snow's department has been preparing for the increase by investigating probable applicants. Between 400 and 500 of these cases have been considered. As soon as the new law becomes effective, Sept. 1, these persons are expected to sign applications.

NO RUSH HERE

In addition Snow expects 200 to 300 others, whose cases have not yet been investigated, to make applications. Out of both groups probably in the neighborhood of 600 will succeed in getting pensions.

There has been no flooding of the local office with applications, as has been happening in Los Angeles. The new law has been interviewed until this week. Announcement that the cases would be considered resulted in a flood of business. Here the new cases have been investigated over a longer period, avoiding a rush.

Child Bride's Sit Down Strike Stopped by Court

DETROIT. (AP)—An injunction and a divorce suit confronted today a 17-year-old bride who staged a sit-down strike in her husband's automobile in an effort to regain his love.

The divorce suit was filed in circuit court by Joseph McCoy, the husband. The injunction was issued by Judge Guy A. Miller.

The restraining order prohibits Mrs. McCoy from interfering with the operation of the automobile, which is parked near the home of her husband's parents.

Robert Taylor Not 'Beautiful'

NEW YORK. (AP)—In case you care, Robert Taylor, of the movies, has hair on his chest, regards himself as a red blooded man and resents people calling him "beautiful."

As he came into Grand Central terminal today—where a couple of hundred screaming women trailed him for his autograph—the curly haired screen star was asked point blank:

"Do you think you are beautiful?"

He smiled. He said he thinks people are belittling him when they call him "beautiful." Pressed for an answer, he said:

"Well, I'm a red blooded man and I resent people calling me beautiful and I've got hair on my chest."

Pink Elephants In Rockies

LOS ANGELES. (American Wire)—Pink elephants can be seen in broad daylight by the strictest of teetotalers if they will go to the right places to look for them, according to the botany department at University of Southern California.

In the northern Rockies, places on the mountainsides are likely to bear a big crop of pink elephants according to the department.

They are bright pink flowers with parts so arranged that they look like the ears, forehead and extended trunk of a miniature elephant.

Old Rattles Reach Museum

CHICAGO. (AP)—Rattles shaken by babies in 2600 B. C. have been received by the Field Museum in Chicago from the Field Museum-Oxford university joint archaeological expedition in Mesopotamia. The rattles are made of pottery in shapes of animals, such as hedgehogs and goats. They are hollow and contain one or more pebbles for noise making.

Eskimos Ordering Spats, Cosmetics

SASKATOON, Sash. (American Wire)—Mail order catalogues are bringing silk underwear, spats and cosmetics to the last really primitive people in North America, the Eskimo, but it isn't entirely a good thing, according to the Rev. A. L. Fleming, bishop of the Arctic for the Anglican Church in Canada.

Welsh's New Variety Store

Blackeye Bean Pool Names Trustees

The election of trustees of the Orange County Blackeye Bean pool for the 1937-1938 season took place Aug. 28, in the Irvine Community hall, Irvine.

The meeting was opened by Wm. T. White, jr., of Cogan & White, exclusive selling agents for the Orange County Blackeye Bean pool. White gave a resume of conditions in the southern bean markets, having just completed a tour of the southern states.

C. J. Cogan reviewed the bean market situation for the past year.

Asa Casey and Alfred Borchard were reelected trustees, representing the Irvine and Santa Margarita ranches, respectively. Mrs. L. F. Moulton was elected to represent the Moulton ranch.

New members, representing an additional 15,000 bags of blackeyes, were signed up at the meeting.

Honey has been used as a food since prehistoric times.

A new five-and-ten cent store has come to Santa Ana. It is Welsh's Variety store, located on the Sycamore street side of the Grand Central market, where shoppers find all their needs under one roof.

The store is operated and independently owned by Frank M. Welsh, formerly of Rockwell City, Iowa, who has had a varied business experience. He has moved to Santa Ana with his wife and daughter.

Visiting on this coast several years ago, he was impressed by Santa Ana, and now has realized his desire to establish his home here. He returned last spring and found a suitable location for his new business.

Welsh is a member of the American Legion and the Elks lodge.

COMPLIMENT TO HAT

She was arrayed for the theater. "Sorry to have kept you waiting so long," she said, "but it has taken me longer than usual to get ready. I look like a fright in this hat, too."

He was vaguely desirous of saying something complimentary. "It isn't the—er—fault of the lovely hat, I am sure, Miss Hankinson," he blundered.—Tit Bits.

Japs Plan Shaft to Cap Empire State

TOKYO. (AP)—Japan wants to build a shaft higher than the Empire State building or the Eiffel tower but—

Tokyo's building ordinance limits the height of structures to 100 feet and besides, no building in Tokyo is permitted to rise higher than the Imperial palace. (That would make it impossible for ordinary mortals to look down on the emperor.)

Promoters hope to get a dispensation to rear a 1312-foot cylindrical shaft in the waters of Tokyo bay for the Japanese International Exposition. It would be built of a light alloy, have a staircase and elevator inside its mural-decorated walls.

Radio and a beacon light, planned to cap the edifice, would, it is pointed out, be important in connection with aviation and air defense.

AUSTRALIA AIR ROUTE PLANNED

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—Harold Gatty, navigator for the late Wiley Post, was en route today to Auckland to establish terminal facilities in New Zealand for Pan-American Airways. Transpacific air service to Australia and New Zealand is expected to start about Jan. 1, Gatty indicated.

Do-Nut Shop Will Open Saturday

The grand opening of Moore's Do-Nut and Malt shop, 210 East Fourth street, will take place on Saturday, which date, coincidentally, is the birthday of Mrs. Al Moore. She and her husband are the proprietors of the new establishment.

Al Moore has been making a specialty of doughnuts for the past 12 years, the last six of which were in connection with the Sherman Do-Nut Kitchen, a well-known Los Angeles firm.

The proprietors have just established their home in Santa Ana and will employ all local help.

Negro Bottle Thrower Held

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Theodore Watts, 27, a negro, was held under $1500 bail today on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Watts was identified as the man who threw an empty liquor bottle at the Olympic auditorium Aug. 10, the bottle hitting the ring post and showering glass on Al Jolson; his wife, Ruby Keeler, and Chico Marx, comedian.

Both Jolson and Marx testified at Watts' preliminary hearing yesterday.

L. A. WAR ON TRANSIENTS IS FAILURE

Bums Too Wise to Cross Police Path

By JOHN M. KENNEDY
LOS ANGELES. (Special). — The incessant warfare conducted by the city and county of Los Angeles against transient hordes in their efforts to gain possession of that city has met with little success.

Police sorties at strategic points cannot stem the tide. Where one band has been routed another will see a break in the lines of defense, march through en masse, and seek shelter in the maze of the city's "skid rows."

Los Angeles can't do it! For years their various contingents assigned to "bum blockades" have used every effort to erect new and supposedly impregnable barriers; to discourage the indigent traveler from entering the city and adding to the local problems.

TASK GROWS

But to one who has observed the necessity for this regulation over a period of years, the attempted halting of this migratory army has been merely defensive—not offensive.

From the East come the modernized covered wagons of distraught emigrants from the dust bowl; hitch hiking and train riding girls and women in search of fame and fortune in Hollywood; the legions of single men anxious to share in the charity of the city; the sweepings of the other 47 states—the bums, the beggars, the panhandlers, the thieves and "stiffs."

The dust bowl refugees seek the jungles and settle down to an intensive and extended search for employment—any kind of employment. The shop worn beauties, the embryo Garbos and Dietrichs, parade their forms for Los Angeles to see and gasp. They impressed the train crews and truck drivers en route—but the "phooey" of a hard boiled casting director soon brings discouragement.

This explanation made apparent to the credit manager that if the revenue-producing ability of the Townsend plan in operation, proved only capable of providing $50 per month pensions then that would be the extent of the government's obligation. But the writer pointed out why the Townsend plan people believe that after the Townsend money begins to freely circulate, eventually it will be possible to pay the maximum ones of $200 per month which the plan contemplates. When these facts were pointed out, the Townsend plan movement became a thing of considerable more importance in the eyes of the wholesale concern's credit manager.

The subject of Townsend plan pensions came to be discussed when the credit manager spoke of San Bernardino being a good trading center. His eyes flashed with enthusiasm and smiles of pleasure wreathed his face as he recited this background for the good business volume which his concern experiences there.

The writer broke in, calling the credit manager by his first name as he has known him over a number of years. (The name is not his real one). "After all, Charlie, its money which is spent that makes business good, isn't it?" He answered, "It sure is." Again the writer spoke, saying, "The business world has been slow to recognize this, hasn't it?" The credit manager glanced quickly at the speaker as if in question of what was in his mind. Quickly the writer followed with this question: "Charlie, when is the business world going to wake up to the value of the Townsend plan as a medium of providing payrolls?"

Then the writer pointed out how the Townsend money put in circulation would provide a payroll of similar size for every city in the nation as is now being enjoyed by San Bernardino from railroad men's salaries. He pointed out how the stores of business men everywhere would be overwhelmed with demands for merchandise of all kinds and how this in turn would start the concerns which manufacture such commodities into active production efforts. He explained the need that would arise almost overnight for labor services and how the salaries then enjoyed by the new workers would go to swell the volume of business that every business concern in the nation would enjoy as a result.

The conversation was finally brought to an end by other parties coming into the credit manager's office but not before he said, "Well, I don't know much about the Townsend plan, but I'd like to see it tried out anyway." Then the writer said, "Charlie, some day it will be tried out—I don't know just how soon—but some day." The credit manager's eyes became dreamy as if looking into a pleasant future and then a smile began playing over his face until his lips parted and he said with a wistfulness that was real, "Boy! I'd like to be living in those days."

The writer wonders how many lazy folks there are that read this column. He hopes not many, as he hopes to hear from all of his readers before Aug. 31, 1937 when this column will be one year old.

May Educate London Jay-walker

LONDON. (American Wire). — The time may come in the near future when "jay-walking" pedestrians in London will be sent to jail. But meanwhile, Sir Phillip Game, commissioner of the Metropolitan police, will try education and propaganda on erring pedestrians. "The primary object of traffic regulation is to avoid casualties, not to punish people for causing them," he said. "Something might be done to check by law the most flagrant of the suicidal wanderings of pedestrians, but I should prefer, before advocating application of fresh legal restrictions applying to pedestrians, to study the efforts of a further period of education and propaganda."

Bigger and Better Families Sought

BERLIN. (AP). — Big families produce big men. A nation populated with small families therefore has small chance of developing any great minds. So runs the "bigger and better family" argument assiduously propagated in Nazi Germany. Charts have been prepared to show that the later children of a family seem to have a better chance of growing up into famous personages than do the first-born or second-born. For instance, it is pointed out, the artist Albrecht Duerer was his mother's third child; Frederick the Great was the fourth child in his family; Bismarck also was a fourth child. Among the great German composers, Bach was last in a family of eight children; Wagner last of nine, and Mozart last of seven.

Schoolboys Prefer Band to Football?

NEW YORK. (American Wire). — The average American schoolboy would rather play on the school band than play football. At least that's the opinion of Fred A. Holtz, president of the National Association of Band Instruments Manufacturers. Holtz says that there are now 40,000 school bands in the United States. The schoolboy musician is a friend indeed of the much-kidded saxophone, said Holtz. He declared that saxophone manufacturers are now far behind in their deliveries. Sales of all band instruments were 35 per cent higher this year than last, Holtz declared.

BUDGET FOR LA HABRA IS INCREASED

Council Boosts Cost For City to $24,000

LA HABRA.—With an increase of over $7000 over last year, the budget for the city of La Habra for the fiscal year was set and approved at $24,000 at the council meeting Tuesday night. Assessed valuation of La Habra is $1,180,000. Salary increases for city officials ranging from $5 to $20 were included in the new budget.

Chief of Police Arch Collins was granted a two-week vacation, beginning Aug. 23.

Nat Neff presented plans for reconstruction of 2.7 miles of outfall sewer line which under the present plan will be a WPA project. Proposed cost to La Habra will be approximately $4854 if the city of Orange pays its share. However, Orange, according to reports, has withdrawn from the joint outfall system and plans its own disposal plant which will raise the assessment for each city. No action was taken by the La Habra council, the matter being deferred until later.

The fund for the Orange county float to be entered at Santa Monica in the Admission day parade will receive $15 from the city of La Habra.

G. G. CLUB HAS PARK MEETING

GARDEN GROVE.—Jack Fisher park in Santa Ana was chosen by the Business and Professional Woman's Social club for a steak bake with which they entertained members of their families and friends Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Alice Koelsch as chairman of the committee was assisted by Misses Marcia Turner and Marcia Carmichael.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Dunham of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Keele and daughter Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. B. Wilkerson, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bruderie, Mr. and Mrs. J. Orland Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. Turner and Miss Marcia Turner of Orange; Royce Edson, Tustin; Miss Louise Chapman, Los Angeles; Miss Janet Humphrey and Miss Abby Chapman, Santa Ana; Miss Gladys Cockerham, Mrs. B. A. Wisner, Miss Marcia Carmichael, Miss Fairs Virgin, P. S. Virgin, Miss Myra Lake, Miss Erma Erickson, Miss Dorothy Knapp and Miss Frances Hammonree.

Roast Rescuers Fight Fire at Newport-Balboa

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Chief Frank Crocker and his firemen are getting tired of roast beef fires.

For the past 10 years their main business has been chasing around the harbor district rescuing roasts. Forgetful housewives who leave the family supper burning in the oven have caused no end of trouble.

Any fire call which is laid to overcome vittles is listed under the "roast beef" classification by the firemen. They had another one yesterday, according to the call reports.

Mrs. William Sikes, first and Begonia, Corona Del Mar, left a toaster burning, it was reported. Then she placed a box of crackers on top of the toaster. Soon smoke began pouring from the house and the firemen were called. They felt their way into the kitchen, removed the cracker ashes, and went back to headquarters to wait for the next "roast beef" blaze.

H. B. Badminton Club Elects

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—With election of officers this week the Badminton club of Huntington Beach opened its second season. Charles White was chosen president, Pete De Fabio was named chairman of men's tournaments and Miss Jean Berry chairman of women's tournaments.

The first meet of the new season was with the Los Angeles state high school Wednesday. It included singles, doubles and mixed matches.

Chaney Talks to Grove Lion Club

GARDEN GROVE.—Homer Chaney of Santa Ana was speaker for this week's meeting of the Garden Grove Lions club, using as his subject "The Labor Situation."

Strike conditions in the East are much exaggerated in the newspaper accounts, and are not nearly as bad as reported, he said.

Announcement was made that no luncheon meeting will be held next week, and instead all members and their families will attend the county picnic at the Anaheim park Tuesday evening.

Grove O. E. S. to Meet Aug. 26

GARDEN GROVE.—Courtesy Night will be observed by the Garden Grove chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at the first meeting following a period of dark nights, the evening of Aug. 26 at the Anaheim I. O. O. F. hall. Important business will come before the chapter and all members are urged to attend by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Alice Keele.

Horses Need Publicity to Live in Laguna, Rule

LAGUNA BEACH.—People who want to keep horses within the city will now have to wait until their animals bask in the light of publicity before the city council gives them a permit.

Although the city council passed to the third reading Wednesday night the amended horse ordinance which requires a discretionary permit from the city council, councilmen made it clear that unless there were no objections from neighboring residents to the windward of the proposed horse domain, the city could not give horse owners permission to keep more than two horses.

Passed as an emergency ordinance in view of a petition initiated by Fred Leach and signed by property owners of the Magnolia street district, the passage of the law was accompanied by two applications for permits from Jessie Rice, 426 Brooks street, and

Ralph L. Bryant, 513 Oak street. Miss Rice, subject of the famous painting "Girl of the Golden West," was one of the strongest protesters against the horse ordinance several weeks ago, when horse owner Shipkey's second best friend had his public inquest before the city fathers. Leach's request for an emergency measure was directed specifically against the Shipkey animal.

Leach was surprised to learn at the meeting from Thomas Murphy, county health inspector, that Shipkey had moved his horse early Wednesday morning. Miss Rice and Bryant will have to sit patiently until next council meeting, for the council wants to be sure that the location of their horses is publicized so that no neighbor may be ignorant of the horses' presence, and therefore unable to protest the granting of the permit.

GROVE LEGION TO INSTALL

GARDEN GROVE.—Installation of officers for the Garden Grove post of the American Legion is scheduled for Wednesday evening, Aug. 25, with the degree team of the Riverside Drum and Bugle corps in charge of the induction rites.

The meeting will open with a pot-luck supper at 7 p. m. to which all friends of the post are invited. The post will furnish the meat, coffee, bread and butter, with those attending to furnish the remainder of the dinner. During the program reports will also be given on the recent state convention.

REBEKAHS MEET AT FULLERTON

FULLERTON.—Rita Ruth Rayne and Harold Root entertained members of the Fullerton Rebekah lodge at a "brothers night" meeting in Odd Fellows temple Wednesday evening.

Rita Ruth, harp pupil of Regina Walberg, played several selections on the harp and also formed the dance team of "Harold and Rita." The youngsters were accompanied by Clyde Taylor at the piano. A pot-luck dinner preceded the meeting. Dorothy Becker, noble grand, conducted the business hour.

Pastor Resigns At Placentia

PLACENTIA.—At a recent meeting of the Placentia church board, the Rev. Don Milligan announced his resignation as pastor of that church. He has accepted the position as dean of men and teacher of practical work at a recently organized Bible school in Los Angeles.

His work there will include city-wide boys' work and clubs along the line of those carried on by him in the Placentia church.

The Rev. Mr. Milligan had been connected with the Calvary church for 13 years, coming to Placentia as youth leader under the Rev. Charles Fuller, former pastor.

Midway Couple Attend Reunion

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fry, graduates of Huntington Beach high school, attended the annual alumni Sunday which included classes from 1909 to 1915. The event was held in Irvine park and was given in honor of Paul Leebrik and Eva Day Leebrik, former students, residents of Honolulu for the past 25 years.

RETURN FROM YOSEMITE

WESTMINSTER.—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Eastwood and Mary and Frank Eastwood have returned from a two weeks' vacation in Yosemite. Monday Miss Eastwood went to Westwood to complete arrangements for her second year at U. C. L. A. She was accompanied by Virginia Ferguson who is planning to enter the university this fall.

L. B. COUNCIL OUSTS SEERS

LAGUNA BEACH.—Acting on the belief that fortune tellers, astrologists, tea-readers and the like were not suitable to the spirit of Laguna, the council decided to oust them from the city.

The fortune-telling ordinance, requiring a $5 per day fee designed to make fortune-telling prohibitory, received a setback, when Ula Evans offered to pay the fee to operate on Saturdays and on Labor day. Councilman Bainbridge was in favor of giving the permit on purely revenue-gaining means for the city.

Councilman Jester maintained that the law was designed to prohibit fortune-telling, and therefore permit should not be granted despite the willingness of the applicant to pay the fee.

Ula Evans operated a booth at the Festival of Arts, and Zoraida, palmist and crystal-gazer, was denied a permit several weeks ago on the same grounds, and is at present operating just outside the city limits.

C. E. Feted at Barbecue Dinner

WESTMINSTER.—Linda and Lemuel McDaniel were hosts at a barbecue supper recently, entertaining members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church.

Included in the group were Virginia Ferguson, Mary Eastwood, Melba Crane, Winifred Walton, Ruth Hosack, Lois Harder, Barbara Campbell, Frank Eastwood, Richard Ferguson, Clifford and Merrill Crane, Bud Harder, Keith Walton, Bob Hosack, Raymond Cook, Bill Rose, Melvin Harder, Melvin Parr, Earl Tretton and Dee Campbell.

Card Club Has Midway Meeting

MIDWAY CITY.—Members of the Neighborhood Bridge club were guests Wednesday of Mrs. Chester Campbell at her home on Goldenwest avenue, Westminster.

Present were Mrs. Robert Lowery, Mrs. Dale Braybrooks, Mrs. Ernest Whitson, Mrs. James Dale, Mrs. A. B. Taves, Mrs. R. I. Johnson, Mrs. Ray Sues, Mrs. Bert Heath and Mrs. Wayne Arnett. Mrs. Lowery and Mrs. Braybrooks received high score prizes and Mrs. Whitson the consolation prize. Mrs. Dale will be the hostess in September, entertaining at her home in Huntington Beach.

RETURN FROM TRIP

WESTMINSTER.—Vacationists returning this week from extended trips included Mr. and Mrs. A. Hare who enjoyed a three weeks' stay in Mexico City and Mrs. and Mrs. Chester Hemstreet and sons who spent several weeks in Montana.

TO VISIT MOTHER

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnett, accompanied by their daughter, Mary, of Laguna Beach, left Sunday for Visalia to visit Arnett's mother, Mrs. Mary Arnett.

BREA'S TAX RATE BOOSTED

BREA.—The 1937-38 tax rate for the city of Brea, which was given its first reading at the council meeting Wednesday night, was tentatively set at $1.75, which will be, if adopted by the council, an increase of five cents over last year's rate.

The council approved and adopted the budget for the fiscal year, which totals $46,590. All general and special funds are included in the budget, which also included salary increases for all city officials.

A copy of resolution 2532 passed by the Santa Ana council, which protested against county supervisors transferring gas tax money to a special fund, was read and approved by the Brea council.

A contract to the Brea Electric company for large incandescent street lamps also was approved. The city of Brea will donate $50 to the public barbecue fund. The annual public barbecue will be held Aug. 27, and a street dance will be held after the dinner.

SEEKS LAGUNA ENGINEER POST

LAGUNA BEACH.—Edward W. Dahl of Santa Ana filed his application with the city this week for the position of city engineer.

Although the position is not open for application at the present time, City Engineer A. J. Stead has waived a section of his contract with the city calling for a 90-day notice of termination from the contract. This leaves the city open to hire a new engineer without notice.

Dahl cited as qualifications that he had been city engineer of Yuma, Ariz., street superintendent of Santa Ana, and similar capacities of numerous other municipalities.

GROVE AID TO MEET THURSDAY

GARDEN GROVE.—An all-day meeting of the General Woman's Aid society of the First Methodist church will be held in the church parlors Thursday, Aug. 26, according to announcement today by the president, Mrs. Jim Chilson.

A business session in the morning will be followed by luncheon and afternoon program. A speaker is being arranged for the program, and Mrs. Geeting of Santa Ana will entertain with readings.

SPORTSMAN DIES AT PORT

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Robert Lee Bettner, 27, pioneer Riverside realtor and sportsman, died at the home of his daughter here today after a heart attack.

Bettner played a prominent part in the formation of the Southern California Lawn Tennis association and once was its president. He also was a polo player in the early days of the game.

He was the owner of large real estate holdings in Santa Monica, Los Angeles and other cities.

PARK LEGION MEETS TONIGHT

BUENA PARK.—Joe Long, newly elected state commander, will be the installing officer at Buena Park Legion post, which will be held tonight at the Legion clubhouse at 8 p. m.

Legionnaires from all surrounding towns are to attend. Long will be assisted by Fred Dukes, active leader in the Buena Park post and recently elected commander of the 21st district.

Fullerton O. E. S. Meeting Held

FULLERTON.—Members and guests, many from surrounding towns, enjoyed a card party following the regular business session of the Ami Tai chapter O.E.S. at a "brothers night" meeting in the Masonic temple, Wednesday evening.

Prizes were won by Mrs. J. D. Kilian, Mrs. Frank Keeler, James Lewis and Ed Kirk in 500, and Mrs. Stella Schulz, Mrs. Rosella Rudd, Walter Schulz and Frank Miller in bridge. E. S. Richman received a special award. Joe Glitz was in charge of the committee which served refreshments following the card party.

RETURNS FROM MOUNTAINS

SMELTZER.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Applebury and Pauline, Betty and Leonard Applebury, returned this week from Big Pines, where in company with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McCreary, Patricia McCreary, Hollywood, and Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Abbey of Victorville, they enjoyed a week's camping trip.

VISIT AT ARROWHEAD

SMELTZER.—Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Pyle, who have been spending some time at their cottage at Lake Arrowhead, have returned to their ranch home. Mrs. Eleanor Pickel, Santa Ana, accompanied them.

New York Stocks

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK. (AP)—A late selling drive unleashed stocks further in today's market and leading issues dropped 1 to 3 or more points.

Brokers could point to no specific news as responsible for the afternoon dip which was fast during the 15 minutes it lasted.

Shelling of an American cruiser at Shanghai, unintentional or otherwise, tended to stress the seriousness of the Sino-Japanese war, although it was thought little important stock liquidation resulted from this incident.

Likelihood of a quick adjournment of congress was seen as a minor influence either way.

Among reasons given for the downturn was inability of the market to pick up any momentum in rallying periods, another drop in U. S. government securities and extension of declines in major commodities.

Mild support appeared before the finish, but most steady quotations were near the bottom. Shares were around 800,000.

SUGAR BILL IS PASSED BY SENATE

Restriction Law Now Goes to White House

WASHINGTON. (AP)—House acceptance of a revamped sugar control bill today sent the controversial legislation to the White House to an uncertain fate.

The measure, which came before both bodies in a conference report was approved by the senate yesterday.

It carried a provision restricting refined sugar imports from Hawaii and Puerto Rico during the first 26 months of the three-year bill, designed to replace the expiring sugar production and marketing stabilization law.

Several weeks ago President Roosevelt indicated he would not accept a measure with restrictions on refined shipments from the island possessions on the ground they would be "discriminatory." Sponsors said they believed that provision for lifting the restrictions March 1, 1940, would win presidential approval for the measure.

Major features of the bill include:

Division of the domestic market among various producing areas—United States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Philippine Islands, Virgin Islands and other foreign countries.

Limitation on refined sugar imports.

A tax of 50 cents a hundred pounds on raw sugar to finance benefit payments to growers who complied with crop control and other regulations.

SEEK PASADENA MURDER CLUE

SOUTH PASADENA. (AP)—The body of an unidentified man apparently a victim of severe blows on the head—was found by police on a railroad track here early today.

Authorities after a hasty examination said the man apparently had been murdered after a struggle in a wooded section and that his body had been carried to the railroad right-of-way. Although there were no trees near the spot where the body was found, it was covered with leaves.

The victim was clad in dark trousers, shirt and house slippers. He appeared to be about 40.

BRIDGES HALTS C. I. O. REVOLT

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Harry Bridges, longshoreman leader and head of the Pacific Coast C. I. O., said today he is launching an immediate new campaign to align all maritime groups under the banner of the committee for industrial organization.

Bridges won a preliminary skirmish for C. I. O. at a meeting of the International Longshoremen's association last night when, appearing unexpectedly from San Francisco, he brought about adjournment without action on a resolution presented favoring withdrawal from C. I. O. to rejoin the A. F. L.

CLEAR OFFICER OF CHARGES

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Police Inspector James J. McCarthy was cleared of charges of neglect of duty and unofficerlike conduct in a hearing before the San Francisco police commission.

The hearing last night was an aftermath of the two-year probe of police department activities conducted by Special Investigator Edwin N. Atherton. Atherton refused to disclose details of telephone wire-tapping on which the charges against McCarthy were based.

SEEK CHANGE OF TOWN'S NAME

BRAZIL, Ind. (AP)—Citizens of William Williams Corner, a little community a mile south of here, are tired of saying and writing the name of the place where they live.

"It's too long. It takes too much breath and too much ink," they complain.

So they have prepared petitions asking that the community's name be changed to "Billville."

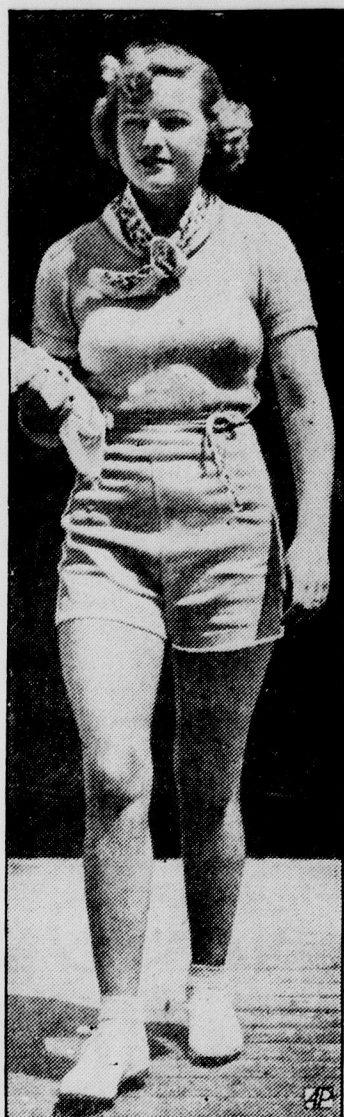

Corwin to Lead Vet Association

PACIFIC PALISADES. (AP)—E. H. Corwin, Victorville, was in office today as the new commander of the Southern California Veterans' association.

Meringues Climax To Desserts

By JUDITH WILSON

A perfect meringue, whether it is the soft topping on your rice pudding or lemon pie or one of the hard kisses or dessert meringues, is worth the trouble it takes to achieve it. First of all the egg whites must be beaten to exactly the right degree of stiffness.

For soft meringue toppings, beat the whites until they flow easily in the bowl, then gradually beat in the sugar, using 3 tablespoons of the fine granulated sugar for each egg white. Beat hard and fast until the mixture is stiff and glossy.

For the hard meringues, follow the directions for the soft meringues only use more sugar and bake in a slower oven. Or use the French method of making dessert meringues which many consider superior to ours.

French Dessert Meringues
Cook together 2 cups sugar and 1/2 cup water in a saucepan, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking without stirring until the sugar reaches the soft ball stage when tested in cold water. In the meantime beat the whites of 5 eggs until very glossy and will slip slightly if the bowl is tipped. Add the syrup gradually to the egg-whites beating constantly. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cover and set aside 15 minutes. Cover a baking pan with several thicknesses of wet paper. Shape the meringues on the paper, using either a spoon or a pastry tube to make small ring shapes. Bake in a slow oven about 30 minutes. Remove from the paper while still warm. Cool the meringues and fill the centers with ice cream or colored fruit sherbet. Strawberry sauce or crushed peach sauce is good over the ice cream.

Editor 'Kicked' by Lost Horse News

News literally "kicked" the editor in the face today.

The police reporter handed him a story about two horses who broke loose and landed in the city pound. One was mouse-colored, the other a bay.

After reading the story, Editor Braden Finch jumped to his feet. "Those are my horses," he said and went away to take care of them.

The horses were reported to the police department by Stanley Main, 1415 West Ninth street. Officers "Bud" Jones and W. E. B. Sherwood, with Poundmaster Harold Pickering, took them "out of circulation." Later today they were returned to their stable at the Finch home, 1610 North Flower.

Glendora Girl Dies in New York

NEW YORK. (AP)—Twelve men, working with inhalators and oxygen tanks, fought in vain today to fan a flickering spark of life in the body of a 20-year-old girl, found unconscious, with gas pouring from five jets, in her apartment here.

The girl, identified by police as Adelaide Hughes, of Glendora, Calif., died little more than an hour after her kimono-clad body was found.

Two letters were found in the apartment she shared with two friends. One, sealed, bore a New Jersey address. The other asked her roommates, Florence Baker and June Burd, to "consider this an accident," and ask that her parents in Glendora be told the same.

Forging their way into the Santa Ana City league playoffs, Kenneth Miller's struggling Elks tucked away the second-half championship of their six-team softball alliance today as the result of a 5-2 win over the Commercial National Bank at the Municipal bowl last night.

They wrote their own ticket into a three-out-of-five-game playoff with Montgomery Ward's first-half champions at the Municipal bowl Monday night.

The survivor will gain the right to represent Santa Ana in the Examiner's annual Southern California amateur tournament in Los Angeles next month.

Showing streaks of their first-half form, Larry Owen's Grand Central Market nine bewildered the Carpenters, 16 to 0, in the "curtain-raiser."

Always difficult to beat in the clinches, the Elks moved ahead 4-2 in the first half of the sixth.

Ray Short filed out to left, giving Cartwright plenty of time to score. "Mickey" Walker advanced Sielert on a fielder's choice, and the second run was scored on Bob Wimbush's error of Ralph Barnes' high fly back of third.

Miller's team came back to add one more in the seventh on a walk to Darwin Scott and Cartwright's centerfield double.

Both clubs started off auspiciously, with the second man up in both halves of the first clouting a three-bagger. Scott did it first, with his hit landing mid-way in the first section of leftfield bleachers. Earl Conaway got his on a "flake" which Roger Dominguez couldn't touch in short right.

GABE GETS TRIPLE
Ed Gabe teed off with a rousing triple into left field which brought Harold Youl across the "fourth base" to begin the Bank's half of the fourth. Roy Stout who used to toil for the Bankers sent a double into left with Gabe coming in.

While the nightcap was a pitcher's duel, the "curtain-raiser" turned out to be a moral victory for Owen's nine. Instead of being sole occupants of the cellar, the (See ELKS CAPTURE, Page 11)

Shed no tears for Andrew Jackson Cook, the title-bound coach they call Bill.

He has a splendid backfield nucleus in Blas Mercurio, lanky-legged quarter; Co-Capt. Ed Stanley, outside half; Mac Beall, left half; and Oliver McCarter, fullback, ready for delivery early next month, and you can leave it to Bill to uncover some choice reserves.

Voice in rear: "The line makes football champions. What does Cook have there?"

The forward wall of the defending Southern California champions will be somewhat of an unknown quantity, but a pair of 210-pound tackles, Russell (Red) Roguet and Dick Tauber; three sturdy ends in Co-Capt. Erwin Youel, Bill Semnacher and Bob Paul; and a 200-pound guard in Joe Crawford, among others, will give Bill some experienced timber.

Don prospects will be rosy, but it is folly to predict another championship eleven... Competition will be keener than ever, and only a team with an A-1 spirit and lots of drive will win. Pomona has the ever-dominant John Casey, all-conference fullback, and Riverside has the triple-threat Lloyd Leest, all-conference halfback, around whom to build formidable teams. San Bernardino, Fullerton, Chaffey and Citrus should be stronger than last fall, with the possible exception of Citrus.

Sam Parriott, the Puente daredevil who rode to the lion's share of glory in the San Clemente hill climb, steered a 12-year-old motorcycle to his record of 14.6 secs.

Considered obsolete, the old Indian motor nevertheless outclassed the field, and its 3 1/2-inch crank-case clearance did not appear to bother Sam. Most hill-climbers have a 6-inch clearance.

Parriott will re-enter the San Clemente event next summer... Eight years ago he set a record at Santa Cruz in 10.9 secs., which still stands... Eight years ago he won the Mission Valley hill climb... He quit the sport five years ago when the American

HANSCHEN, BACA SCORE

Small Crowd Views Disappointing Show

By PAUL WRIGHT

Only a sprinkling of fans turned out for the Orange County Athletic club's weekly fights last night, and it was just as well for the promoters, because their lack-luster show was a keen disappointment.

Matchmaker George L. Stewart, under the sponsorship of the 40 and 8 society of the American Legion, has arranged a few sizzling cards in recent weeks, but last night's program back-fired on him.

Even the main event was no windup. BACA BEATS NEGRO
Fannie Baca, brother of Sal Baca of Ontario, enlivened an otherwise dull card by trading some fast punches with Louie Weise, 148-pound Negro from Los Angeles. Baca's victory came too late, however, to stir a small crowd that almost had been rocked to sleep by the slow-moving preliminaries.

How John Hanschen, Ontario heavyweight, ever won the state A. A. U. championship will always remain a mystery to some fans, who watched him go four rounds with Henry Moberly, Los Angeles colored lad, in the semi-windup. Hanschen was wide open most of the time, and anyone except a Moberly would have taken advantage of it. Hanschen won according to the judges, but to the fans it was just a plain draw—very plain.

There was one preliminary that did slightly bring the fans out of their slumber. It was Lupe Rangel, the Pomona boy, against the clever little southpaw, Kid Martinez of Los Angeles. Martinez showed the most aggressiveness, but Rangel landed the most effective blows, thus winning the decision.

JAY HASTINGS WINS
Jay Hastings, Orange, displayed some splendid footwork, but his punching was too weak to do much damage to Willie Reyer, Los Angeles negro. Reyer apparently couldn't take it because he covered up his head with both gloves while Hastings slugged lightly away. Jay won an easy decision.

Nash Diaz of Los Angeles rallied in the fourth round to defeat Marshall Calderon of Stanton in an even-matched bout.

Al Higgs, Los Angeles, muscled-bound negro, and Ray Hernandez did very little fighting but a lot of fancy dancing. Higgs won the decision, but it was a hollow honor.

Ray Banuelos of Pomona outpointed Wee Willie Brown, colored boxer from Los Angeles, but lost on a technical point when he received a cut on the lip in the third round of the "curtain-raiser."

Juan Oliquej-Pico, the statuette Basque-Mexican, meets Indian Jules Strongbow in a three-fall, one-hour time limit bout while the opener shows a pair of new faces in Irish Pat Riley and Vic Hill. This bout is billed for one fall, 30-minute time limit.

A brisk advance seat sale and telephone reservations already have been recorded, officials of the club report.

MRS. BAKRE IS GOLF QUEEN

Humbles Mrs. Hall In President's Cup

Mrs. Harry Bakre today was sporting the queen's crown of the Santa Ana Country club's annual President's cup tournament, following her 4 to 3 golf victory over Mrs. Paul Hall in finals yesterday.

En route to the title Mrs. Bakre put out such tested performers as Mrs. C. J. Cogan, Mrs. C. H. Chapman, Mrs. L. H. Robinson and Mrs. R. W. Weston.

Mrs. Hall gained the final round after disposing of Mrs. Don Andrews, Mrs. J. L. McFadden and Miss B. W. McClure.

Miss Lolita Mead was the defending champion. Mrs. Bakre, Mrs. Weston and Mrs. E. H. Guthrie tied for honors in blind-bogey (81) at the club yesterday.

The words, spoken by the Cubs' pilot when the current season was just a youngster, revolved about big league baseball's champion hard luck guy, Curt Davis, and his right hand pitching prowess.

The Cubs, said Grimm at that time, didn't expect much, if any, help from Davis this year. And for weeks, it looked as though Cholly had it figured about right. The big lumberman from the Northwest wasn't fully recovered from last year's stomach ailment, and a sore arm put him to bed on the shelf again. To all intents and purposes, he was going to be about as useful to the Cubs as a layer of banana peels around second base.

But even without him, and in the powerful presence of a record-breaking list of injuries, the Cubs were doing all right. The pitching was getting by, the hitting was heavy, and the Windy City wall-poppers were sporting a growing lead in the pennant chase.

Then came the slump. That "best balanced" throwing staff was splattered all over the place with the completeness and effectiveness of a peach pie in a slapstick comedy. The Cubs lost five in a row, and their lead was cut to two games over the reeling Giants.

Into that situation, Grimm yesterday threw Davis, largely because there wasn't much else to do, the hospital list being what it is. And Davis, although his performance wasn't sensational, showed that he's ready to take his regular turn again by coming through with a 7-3 decision against the perennial Cub jinx, Pittsburgh's Pirates. He pitched shutout ball in all but two innings, and finished stronger than even he himself expected.

The victory really meant two games to the Cubs. Had they lost and the Giants won, their league lead would have been shaved to a single game. But the Giants dropped an 11-inning, 2-1 heartbreaker to the pitching mastery of Jim Turner and the Boston Bees, and gave the Cubs another breathing spell.

The Yankees, meantime, got the breaks to maintain an 11 1/2-game edge in the American league with performance wasn't sensational, showed that he's ready to take his regular turn again by coming through with a 7-3 decision against the perennial Cub jinx, Pittsburgh's Pirates. DANO, LEYVAS VIE TONIGHT

Legion Fights Offer Filipino, Mexican

HOLLYWOOD. (P) — Pablo Dano, Filipino bantamweight who has won 10 of his 11 fights this year, meets Bobby Pancho Leyvas, Yuma, Ariz., Mexican, in the scheduled 10-round main event at the American Legion stadium tonight.

It will be the third meeting of the two sluggers, with the score standing at a win for Leyvas and one draw. In his last start, Dano won the decision from Frank (Kid) Covelli.

Curt Davis Snaps Chicago's Slump

By SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Charley Grimm sat down with pleasure today to eat a few of his own words.

The diet was about as appetizing as a barbed wire sandwich, but Jolly Cholly had a lot of fun stowing it away, nevertheless, especially since it had to do with a bright spot for his Chicago Cubs and their three-game lead on the National league pack.

The words, spoken by the Cubs' pilot when the current season was just a youngster, revolved about big league baseball's champion hard luck guy, Curt Davis, and his right hand pitching prowess.

BREA SQUARES SERIES, 9-2

Irvine Falls Before 'Homecoming' Crowd

Irvine and Brea were all square today in their heated four-out-of-seven game series for the County Nighthall league championship.

Before a large and enthusiastic crowd at Irvine last night, Virgil Rigger's Lions turned the tables on Ernie Lagier's defending champions and won handily, 9 to 2.

Irvine captured the first game at Brea, 8-6. The third will be played at Brea next Monday night.

Brea bunched 10 hits off Pitchers Ira Debusk and Clyde Adamson, while Rudy Montgomery was nicked for 7 by Irvine. Maxson was the big gun of the Brea attack with four hits. Ray Hodgson hit a home run for Brea.

LIONETTES WIN HANDILY, 23-7

Huntington Park's Lancers, girls' softball team, wilted before the power of the Orange Lionettes, who chalked up 17 runs in the first two innings to win 23-7 at Orange last night. Orange's battery of Lois Terry and Phyllis Tucker was loaned to Huntington Park after the second inning. Miss Terry hit a long home run.

SPORTS Roundup

NEW YORK. (P)—Prettiest sitting football coach is Dana X. Bible at Texas U... He has a 10-year contract at $15,000 per.

Note to American league managers: Joe McCarthy says he'll make the Yankees 40 per cent stronger by trades next winter... Read it and weep.

There isn't a married gal on the British Wightman cup team... That goes for Kay Stammers, too... Which is a mystery to everyone who has seen her... Al Schacht, back from a triumphant tour of the south, sees another subway World's series... Clowning through the provinces has enabled Al to bank more dough so far this year than in any three years he spent as a big league coach.

When more and better victories are made, Max Schmeling will make 'em... Mike Jacobs is "regusted" at the German's demands for 30 per cent of the gate to meet the Louis-Farr winner... "I offered him that to meet Louis two months ago," says Mike, "and he gave me the old run-around... We'll just leave him on the hot seat for a little while."

The No. 1 comeback man of the 1937 baseball season is Senor Veron (El Goffy) Gomez of the Yankees.

Bob Wimbush, onetime Santa Ana High school infielder, will join Santa Ana's Stars tonight, but may not play until next week. He is a second-baseman.

Pitching partners for the greater part of the 1937 season, Jack Dugan and Rudy Homan will be friendly enemies tonight when Westminster comes to the Municipal bowl to close relations with Santa Ana's Star at 8:15 o'clock.

Dugan, "sold" to Santa Ana by Westminster, shut out San Bernardino, 4-0, in his debut here. He relieved Stan Jacobsmeier in the ninth at Huntington Beach, and lost an 8-7 decision to the Ollers on Joe Rodgers' home run in the twelfth Tuesday night. He will be making his second official start tonight.

Herman, old-time Olive gunner who led the American league in hitting with Riverside last summer, has turned in some effective mound performances with Francis Penhall's Aviators, and the Stars may find difficulty in chasing him to cover.

TED KEY WRESTLES IRONMAN ON KUDO-MARTINEZ CARD

Fresh from a sensational win over former champion Gus Sonnenberger, Ted Key, former U. C. L. A. football star, today was signed to wrestle "Ironman Louie" Miller, powerful Bulgarian, in Monday night's special event at the Orange County Athletic club.

Key and Miller are down for a one fall, 30-minute catch-as-catch-can bout, although veteran mat critics assert it will be a hit-and-tackle affair with Key tackling Miller and Miller hitting the fourth row, gallery.

Monday night's mat program is creating county-wide interest among followers of the sport who saw the recent match between Kiman Kudo and Ignacio Martinez. It also marks the first finish

IN TENNIS

HOW THEY STAND

SMALL CHANCE FOR ENGLAND

England's chances of winning the World Cup are slim, but they are not impossible. The team is in good form, and the manager, Sir Alf Ramsey, is a proven winner. The team's only real weakness is its defense, which is inexperienced and lacks the strength of the other teams. However, if the team can play to its strengths, it has a chance of winning the Cup.

The team's attack is led by Bobby Charlton, who is a proven goalscorer. He has scored 10 goals in 15 matches. Other players who are in good form are Geoff Hurst, who has scored 5 goals, and Jimmy Greaves, who has scored 3 goals. The team's defense is led by Alan Ball, who is a proven defender. He has played 15 matches and has not scored any goals. Other players in the defense are Bobby Moore, who has played 10 matches, and Peter Shilton, who has played 5 matches.

The team's midfield is led by Nobby Stiles, who is a proven playmaker. He has played 15 matches and has scored 3 goals. Other players in the midfield are Billy Wright, who has played 10 matches, and Jimmy Martin, who has played 5 matches.

The team's goalkeeper is Gordon Banks, who is a proven goalkeeper. He has played 15 matches and has not conceded any goals. Other players in the team are Peter Taylor, who has played 10 matches, and John White, who has played 5 matches.

The team's overall record is 10 wins, 5 draws, and 5 losses. They have scored 25 goals and conceded 15 goals. They are currently in 3rd place in the World Cup standings.

The team's next match is against the United States on June 17th. They will be playing at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas. The match is expected to be a close one, with both teams having a chance of winning.

The team's manager, Sir Alf Ramsey, is a proven winner. He has won the World Cup with England in 1966. He is a proven tactician and a proven leader. He is the man to watch in the World Cup.

The team's chances of winning the World Cup are slim, but they are not impossible. If the team can play to its strengths, it has a chance of winning the Cup.

State Education Head
Demands Investigation

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Dr. Walter B. Dexter, state superintendent of instruction, said today he is holding up a second text book contract which was voted by the state board of education without bids having been received.

Last week Dexter announced he was withholding his approval of a $181,000 language book contract with the Silver Burdette company which had been signed by Louis T. Crutcher, president of the board. Dexter said this contract was far in excess of a lower bid for the same books.

"I am refraining from signing the contract for music books for rural schools which the Silver Burdette company obtained from the state board of education last fall," Dexter said.

"I want it to be placed before the board for review. Without reflecting on the merit of the books I want to learn, if I can, why bids were not submitted and why the books were not placed before the state curriculum committee."

"I intend to place this contract and the language book contract before the board at its meeting Saturday in Santa Barbara."

The Silver Burdette company music book contract calls for the company to lease the book plates to the state at rates as follows: 15.2 cents for books for lower classes, 16 cents for upper class books and 30 cents for teacher's books.

It was estimated 50,000 books would be needed to supply the rural schools.

Manville's 4th
Wife Heads for
Reno; He Laughs

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (AP)—At his heavily-guarded estate at Bon Repos (French for "good rest"), Tommy Manville, the asbestos heir, laughed merrily when he heard his fourth wife, Marcelle Edwards Manville, was going to Reno.

"A divorce and 250,000 smackers," laughed the goodly square of Broadway. "What a sure thing! Listen, I haven't signed that paper yet. Sure, she's going, but she hasn't got the paper. She hasn't anything."

The fourth Mrs. Manville, blonde like two of her predecessors, was booked to fly from Newark airport last night.

The divorce, Tommy said, was all right by him.

Manville is 43, a regular front-pager in matrimonial exploits. His wives in order have been: Florence Huber, Follies dancer, blonde; Lois Arlene McCain, brunette; Ayvonne Taylor, Follies girl, blonde.

The present marriage has been anything but smooth sailing. Tommy and Marcelle have been separated several times. She has already made one trip to Reno.

Bing, Resting
Won't Intercede
For John Montague

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Bing Crosby came to this health and racing resort yesterday to "just take it easy"—golf and watch the horses.

The actor is particularly interested, he said, in four yearlings purchased for him just before his arrival. They are going to be added to his fast-growing stable.

Crosby said he has no intention of pleading with Gov. Herbert H. Lehman for his friend, John Montague, Hollywood golfer whose extradition New York demands on charges he participated in a robbery in Essex county in 1930.

"I told Montague before I left Hollywood that I am willing to do anything I can for him," the actor asserted, "but I am not personally going to appeal to the governor."

Crosby plans to remain the balance of the racing season, which ends Aug. 28.

Death Ray Expert
To Marry Singer

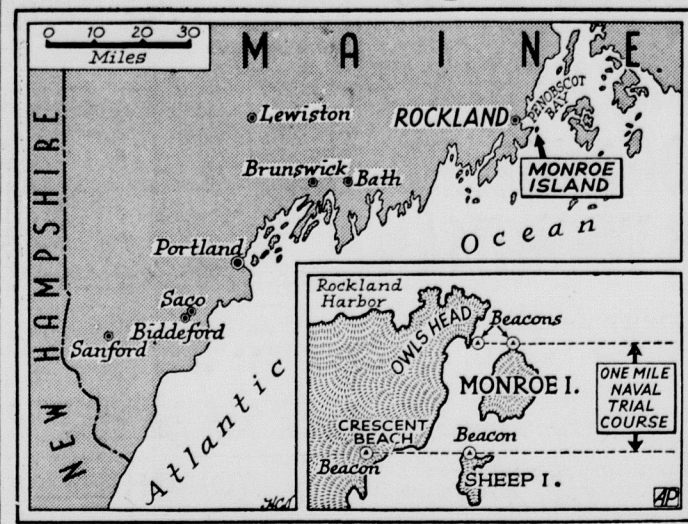

LONDON. (AP)—Harry Grindell-Matthews, an inventor who claims to possess the secret of a "death ray," announced today he would be married shortly to Ganna Walska, Polish opera singer and former wife of Harold Fowler McCormick of Chicago.

The 57-year-old inventor said Mme. Walska was in France, but he did "not know just where." He said they met first about three months ago at the opera in London.

Mme. Walska, 45, was married to McCormick in 1922. They were divorced in 1931.

Grindell-Matthews, who asserts that his "ray" could down airplanes, set fires to distant objects and strike death at great distances, said he now is engaged in air defense problems in the marshes of Glamorganshire, Wales.

Navy's War Dogs Get Sea Legs In Rigid Tests Off Maine Coast

TESTING GROUND—Before any of Uncle Sam's ships can join the navy, they must undergo a series of trials on Penobscot Bay off the Maine coast. The one-mile test course is shown in the inset.

By HARRY E. FARNHAM

ROCKLAND, Me. (AP)—Penobscot bay on the Maine coast provides Uncle Sam the ideal testing ground for his fighting ships. Nowhere else along the Atlantic coastline does the expanse of sea and the water's depth combine with proximity to mainland and deep water base to permit so well trials of sleek, gray destroyers and men o' war.

All new vessels undergo trials on what is known as the Rockland measured mile course.

Smoke trials left by a ploughing cruiser provide those ashore with the only indication that a $10,000,000 ship may be going through a series of standardization trials that rack her rivets and structure and every integral part from stem to stern.

A technical group of navy experts known as a "trial board" supervise the tests, but these light-lipped gentlemen come ashore with never a word as to the results. The navy keeps its secrets.

Aside from ordinary tests for speed, oil consumption and other standardization paces, the ship must conform to rigid requirements laid down by technicians. Among these are "turning a corner" with the rudder flung hard down at full speed. Or the massive craft may "put on the brakes" with both anchors dropped while she travels at top speed.

For the conduct of speed tests, the course is "measured" by four land beacons, visible by day, lighted by night.

Two outside beacons, those nearest the sea, stand on islands. Inside beacons perch just opposite on the shore.

When a "sight" by ship's officers shows the outer beacon lined up with its higher, mainland mate, the vessel begins its measured mile test, completed when it passes the line made by the other two beacons.

Probe Death of
New York Jurist

SAN BERNARDINO. (AP)—An inquest has been ordered into the highway collision which killed Leon Snaders, 67, judge-referee of the municipal court of New York City.

The veteran jurist, who had served on the municipal bench since 1903, succumbed yesterday to injuries suffered in the accident last Friday.

A friend, Theodore Propper, 17, of Long Island, N. Y., who was at the wheel of Judge Snaders' car when it collided with another, suffered a broken leg, but Mrs. Snaders was not seriously hurt.

A son, Nathan Sanders, Chicago textile manufacturer, and a daughter, Mrs. Theresa Penner of New York City, flew here by plane. The body will be sent to New York.

Pork Imports
Exceed Exports

WASHINGTON. (AP)—For the first time in history, the agriculture department reported, the United States is importing more pork than is exported.

In the first nine months of this marketing year, the department said, exports totaled 45,000,000 pounds against imports of 52,000,000 pounds.

Pork exports averaged 211,000,000 pounds and imports 6,000,000 in the five years of 1928-32.

Department economists said the situation resulted from a combination of drought and high hog prices.

Chaney Tells Lions Strike
Wave Checks Speculation

This year's strike wave was a check against a speculative fever just as dangerous as that of 1929, Homer Chaney, federal forum leader, told Lions club members yesterday afternoon.

Chaney, just back from a nationwide speaking tour, described conditions in strike areas which he visited and trends of political thought in other parts of the country.

FAITH IN FUTURE
"We are dedicated from now on to a New Deal program by mutual consent," he said, "and not by dictation. I have absolute faith in the future of this country. We have ahead of us a prosperity, democracy and Americanism more solidly entrenched than ever before."

The threat of John L. Lewis is on the wane, Chaney said, although the I. O. leader still holds enormous power. Lewis is not interested in entering politics, he added.

'Phooey,' Says Honey To Prince Mdivani Rumors

NEW YORK. (AP)—Honey Johnson, 23-year-old blonde beauty of Bronxville, N. Y., spoke her mind today on those cabled reports she was going to marry David, last of the Mdivani family.

So pip Papa Johnson.

So did Jesse Livermore, jr. (17 years old).

Honey said: "Ridiculous!" Papa Johnson said: "Preposterous!" Jesse, jr., said: "He went nuts over her."

They all—that is, all except Mdivani, who was left behind in Venice where the romance, real or fancied, blossomed—came back on the Italian liner Conte Di Savoia.

Johnson denied the engagement rumors forcefully. His daughter followed suit. Then along came Livermore, who had gone to Paris and Venice from Hollywood with Mdivani and introduced the couple.

That was five months ago, some time after Livermore had recovered from an accidental gunshot wound inflicted by his mother. Livermore was speaking about the "romance" today when his mother, Mrs. Jesse L. Livermore, appeared on the scene.

A lot of people were talking by that time and young Livermore tried to simplify everything by explaining. It appeared that before he introduced David and Honey he spoke in this wise to David:

"They have a daughter you'll go nuts over."

"And he did go nuts over her. I could marry her myself in a minute, if I wanted to."

He was rattling along in this vein when Honey broke in:

"All of this is ridiculous. They always tie me up with every man I meet. I had several dances with Mdivani, and that's all there is to it."

Livermore, raising his voice, was heard again. He said he believed Honey still favored the Georgian prince, who was once married to Mae Murray of the

Tides of War
Sweep Japanese
Into Huge Hotel

SHANGHAI. (AP)—The strange tides of war have swept 400 Japanese cotton mill hands into magnificent unimagined.

The luxurious suites formerly occupied by Oriental and European royalty at Shanghai's oldest and most famous hotel, the Astor house, were turned over to the humble 50-cents a day workers.

With the military occupation of the international settlement north of Szechow creek, the Japanese authorities requisitioned the Astor house to accommodate their refugees.

Street Changes
Irk Cab Drivers

LONDON. (American Wire)—Taxicab drivers here are having brainstorms. Finding addresses is no mean job right now. Seven hundred street names in the city were changed last week. Eventually the change will prove a boon to taxicab drivers and postal workers, because duplicate names of streets have been eliminated.

Meanwhile taxicab drivers are working "cross-road" puzzles, as it were.

Chaney Tells Lions Strike
Wave Checks Speculation

"I concluded," he reported, "that labor and labor troubles are not the result of Communist influence. LABOR RACKETEER

"The Communist is there, and he's glad to see strikers and violence, but the real danger is the labor racketeer, who is just the same fellow who used to control the beer racket and all the other rackets. He has no particular love for the laboring class, but is interested only in what he himself gets out of it."

Bitterness carrying over from former strikes is a big factor in the hatred evident in the steel industry, and General Motors' business policies have put it in dispute with the people of Michigan, so that popular sympathy was with the strikers, Chaney said.

Chaney's talk was preceded by a report from Frank Harwood, club president, on the Lions International convention, held in Chicago July 21 to 23.

U. S. STUDENTS LEARN HISSING

That method of telling time after noon is one of the two things American students attending summer school at the National University of Mexico find it difficult to adapt themselves to. The other thing is class room lectures delivered in Spanish.

"When they start talking about 15 or 16 o'clock, it sounds as though they are referring to next week, or something," says Joan Andre, a co-ed from Luxembourg, Wis.

More than 500 Americans from 37 states are enrolled in the university this summer, most of them to learn Spanish.

The school is housed in one building, the former residence of a Spanish grande, and the campus is only a picturesque patio, about the size of the average American backyard. All class rooms open to the patio, and it is not uncommon to see a student outside conversing freely with a friend in class.

Starting to the visitor from the United States is the chorus of hissing that occasionally arises from his Mexican fellow students. They are not hissing the professor however. A couple may be talking too loudly, or there may be too much shuffling of feet, and the hissing is for silence.

The professor does not have to keep order. It is kept for him.

The first motion picture with sound was shown in 1926.

TOASTMASTERS GET SERIOUS

With six speakers present despite the encroachments of a vacation season not yet over, A. O. Hatfield, toastmaster for El Camino Toastmasters club, offered a serious program last evening at Daniger's cafe.

Ernest H. Layton and T. D. MacBird reported on the convention held Saturday at Hollywood by the Toastmasters International.

"Cost of the Rumors of War" gave W. H. "Ted" Blanding an opportunity to outline some of the costs of preparing for war in general.

How the small claims courts operate and the simplicity of procedure in them was explained by Robert Hockaday in a six-minute talk. Glenn Tidball offered "Labor's Fight for Power" in which he asserted that the nation's labor problem must be studied in the light of British experience.

T. D. MacBird gave his experience in a home workshop. How the "iron lung" operates to save or prolong human life, was explained by Hubert Gohres. Robert Haven stated his belief that the Social Security act may have to be modified.

Critics were E. M. Sundquist, Philip N. Hood, William Fernandez, Ernest H. Layton, Ernest S. Wooster and Dr. C. J. Ruley.

The term cloudburst first was used in the United States about 1840, and in India about 1860. It seldom is used unless at least 6 inches of rain fall in an hour.

American Oil Man Killed in Spain

VALENCIA, Spain. (AP)—John Howard Jordan, American manager of the Vacuum Oil company in Spain, was killed in an automobile accident yesterday.

Two American employees of the company, accompanying him on a drive from Valencia to Barcelona, A. F. Jones and a Mr. Sauerwein, were not injured.

Jordan lived in Spain 15 years. His family is now in France.

Collecting Logs Popular Hobby

NEW YORK. (American Wire). One of the latest American hobbies to receive widespread popularity is the collection of ship log books.

There is a group of collectors specializing in the collecting of log books of old New England and Long Island whalers.

YOU NEEDN'T
EAT THAT
PECK OF DIRTModern Folk Careful
About SanitationK. H. SUTHERLAND, M. D.
Health Officer

The ancient philosophy that one must "eat a peck of dirt before he dies" has gone into the discard. We are growing more fastidious on the subject. People used to be content to drink almost any kind of clean water and white milk, but now we know that such a careless attitude leads to trouble sooner or later and we insist on pure water and clean milk, free from disease-producing germs.

We know, further, that it is the dirt that we cannot see that is most dangerous. A lump of clay would, obviously, render a bottle of milk unfit for drinking but might otherwise do little harm. On the other hand, a few germs of typhoid fever, scarlet fever or other contagious diseases in the same bottle might easily cause disastrous consequences even though their presence could not be detected without laboratory examination.

FOOD ESTABLISHMENTS

For the above reasons, the health department has its four sanitary inspectors and its milk inspector concentrate on inspections of food-handling establishments, especially during the warm weather of the summer months. There are about 1300 food-handling establishments in the county so, for best results, inspectors must have the interest and cooperation of the patrons of the eating establishments in following out sanitary rules and instructions.

During routine inspection, particular attention is paid to facilities for washing and sterilizing of dishes and utensils, refrigeration, cleanliness of stoves, floors, food counters, show cases, personal cleanliness of the employees and their health as regards absence of signs of possible infectious disease. The cleanliness of the glassware and eating utensils is checked from time to time by securing culture swabs of the same and inoculating the swabs on culture plates in the laboratory, incubating the culture plates and then counting the colonies of bacteria.

MANY OTHER DUTIES

Sanitary inspectors made 7441 inspections of food handling establishments last year and found it necessary to condemn 62 places as unfit for the handling of food.

Sanitary inspectors have many other duties to perform in protecting the public health and safety. Some of them are—inspecting the community water supplies and sampling the same for bacterial analysis, sampling the water in swimming pools for bacterial count, checking on sewage disposal, making housing inspections, checking on food vendors or peddlers, and answering many complaints concerning insanitary conditions and securing the correction of the same when warranted. Inspections of such nuisances as noise, bad odors, rubbish, keeping of domestic animals, untidy yards, vacant lots and similar conditions of physical environment which are undesirable but scarcely dangerous to health, should be abated as a public nuisance by individual court action, and are not strictly in the realm of the health department.

In all, during the last year, a total of 20,021 sanitary inspections of various sort were made by the inspectors of the health department.

Children to Get Care While
Mother in Jail

What will happen to Mrs. Ethel Cora Wall's three minor children while she is serving a 60-day sentence for chiseling $679.44 of relief money? She pleaded guilty and was sentenced yesterday in justice court here.

This question was answered today by Mrs. Katharine Handley, supervisor of the State Relief Administration for Orange county. The children, all near the age of 13, are being provided direct relief by the state agency, she said.

The children are residing at their home, 408 East Third street, with their father, who is unemployed at present.

The sentencing of Mrs. Wall to the county jail is the first in the history of the county in which anyone has been jailed for relief chiseling. In the only two other cases in the county, the defendants were allowed to make restitution.

FARMERS WIN
PRIZES AT
S. D. FAIRCounty Students Get
$380 for Exhibits

The four established Future Farmer chapters in Orange county won a total of $380 at the San Diego county fair, just closed, it was announced today.

The prize money was won by students taking vocational agriculture in Garden Grove High school, Valencia High school in Placentia, and Newport Harbor High school. Prizes were won in both the Future Farmer division and the open division, in hogs, dairy cattle, farm mechanics, truck crops, poultry and rabbits, and in feature exhibits.

In the hog division, Valencia High school and Garden Grove High school won the most. In Berkshires, Valencia won first; herd, first; junior boar, first and second; junior sow pig, first and second; senior yearling, and first herd. Garden Grove won fourth for junior sow pigs.

In Poland chinas, a Garden Grove boy had first, junior sow pig in both Future Farmer class and the open. Duroc honors were won by Donald Worden of Placentia with first and second senior sow pig; first and second junior sow pig; first junior boar pig, and third for herd. In the open division Richards won a first, a second and a third against all breeders and had reserve champion female in Berkshires. Worden won a second in the open.

In Chester whites, Lawrence Lenke of Placentia won second senior sow pig and third for herd. Robert Hill of Placentia won first senior yearling and fourth junior boar pig.

In the dairy division Garden Grove was the only county school to place, with a first in the Guernsey heifer class and a third in the Guernsey bull calf class.

Poultry honors were divided between Placentia and Garden Grove, with the latter winning first pen of white leghorns; first cockerel, white leghorn; first and fourth hen, and second and sixth for pullets. Placentia had second cockerel, fifth pullet and fifth, sixth seventh and eighth pens of four females.

In Barred Rocks, Dwight Shook had first pen of four, first and second pullets, and second cockerel. Allen Shook of Placentia had sixth and seventh young hen turkeys. Placentia also won third sweepstakes in poultry.

NEWPORT HARBOR WINS

Agricultural exhibits found Newport Harbor on top with a fourth in agricultural sweepstakes. Leroy Shilling had thirds on cucumbers and carrots; Harvey Davis seconds on demonstration hive and on strained honey; Alan Sherry seconds on gladiolus bulbs, cucumbers and squash; Charles Vucich first on sweet potatoes and seconds on green beans and green peppers. George Dadds of Placentia won first on squash and beets and second on green beans. Bob Nimmo of Newport won second on gate hook and staples in farm mechanics.

In rabbits, Ed Mier of Placentia won first for his meat pen of rabbits. Jack Young of Newport won fourth junior doe rabbit, and Leroy Johnson won first junior doe and fifth doe and litter. Buzz Nickens won a fourth on pigeons. Garden Grove won first and second for Stone tomatoes, first and second carrots, and first and third green beans.

Music With His Work

Robert Hazen, Journal carrier boy, is shown above about to start out on his route with his home-made radio set which he has mounted on the handlebars of his bicycle. Robert uses a metal fishing pole for his aerial, and the radio really works.

Boy Makes Bicycle Radio
Aerial from Fishing Pole;
Gets Tunes While He Rides

By KENNETH ADAMS

Boys will be boys, they say—but something of a radio technician. Good night! What will they think up next?

Take young Robert Hazen, Journal carrier boy, for instance. He saw these fancy new aerials on automobiles, used to pick up music and such out of the air.

Now he's got one on his bike. And a radio to go with it. What's more, it works.

Bob, who is 15 years old, is something of a radio technician. He had to be to put the stuff in his radio together, mount it on the handlebars of his bike and pluck sweet music out of the ozone.

He picked up a variable condenser, strung some wire around a coil, inserted a grid leak and condenser, a rheostat and a switch. He stuck 'em all together, and the darned thing worked.

The tricky little outfit is powered by a couple of small dry cell "A" batteries and a small "B" battery. The tube used is a dry cell. The entire set is mounted on sponge rubber to absorb the vibrations.

But the fanciest part of the ensemble is the antenna. It really is a wow! Maybe when his dad finds out what he's using for an

Sisters Fete Bride-Elect At Party

Aileen Adams Honor
Guest at Kitchen
Shower

Extending their gracious hospitality to one of their younger friends, Miss Aileen Adams, who is to wed Kenneth Crawford this coming week, Miss Myrtle Rutherford and Mrs. Harriet Rutherford Bonnell entertained at a delightful party last evening.

Delicate ananias, lilies, and goldenglow decorated their pretty home, and a pastel color scheme was carried out in all details of tallies and table appointments for the late refreshment course that was served.

Many of the guests were old family friends of Miss Adams' and her fiancé's parents, all of whom are Orange county pioneers. They therefore found particular enjoyment in showering the bride-elect with gay red and white accessories for the kitchen that will be hers after the honeymoon.

Hearts was the game chosen for the evening with high score prize going to Mrs. Lancaster, and low to Mrs. Anderson.

Guests of the two hostesses were Mrs. W. H. Adams, mother of the bride-elect, and her two sisters, Mrs. Ivan Belman and Miss Marion Adams; Mrs. B. A. Crawford, mother of the groom-elect; Mrs. Mary Anderson and Mrs. R. J. Carmichael, aunts of Miss Adams from Calexico; Mrs. H. W. Kornder and Miss Harriet Kornor; Mrs. V. L. Melton, Miss Sade Fox of San Francisco, Mrs. Ray Wolven, Mrs. E. M. McKay, Mrs. Agnes Lindig, Mrs. Walter Herrick, Mrs. Irene Lancaster, Mrs. Fred Farrell, and Mrs. E. A. Wakeham of Garden Grove and Miss Dolores Brooks.

CLUB ENJOYS POTLUCK LUNCH

Members of the X. N. O. club enjoyed a potluck luncheon at the home of Mrs. Fred Ahlesold on Fairhaven road this week. Sewing and conversation occupied the afternoon, with several delightful musical numbers played on the accordion by Miss Marian Ahlesold.

In two weeks the club will have another potluck affair at Irvine park. Members present at Mrs. Ahlesold's were Mrs. A. R. Bennett, Mrs. W. R. Edwards, Mrs. W. L. Harbert, Mrs. B. A. Hershey, Mrs. E. E. Perry, Mrs. A. R. McPhee, Mrs. H. R. Trott, Mrs. M. O. Johnson, and a guest, Mrs. Maurie McCall with her young son Gordon.

JEROMES BACK FROM MOUNTAINS

Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Jerome and son Don of 2352 Riverside drive, have just returned to their home after an enjoyable week spent at Peter Pan lodge near Big Bear.

They were guests for the mountain visit of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Osterman and two daughters Maxine and Marie of El Toro in the Osterman cabin in the San Bernardino mountains.

TWO MEN FISH IN OREGON

Thomas W. Andrew and Douglas Andrew of the local Red and White stores, are now spending a three-week vacation fishing in the Rogue river, Oregon.

They stopped at the American Legion convention in Stockton en route to Oregon, and will return along the coast highway at the end of their vacation.

WALTERS HAVE CHICAGO GUESTS

Miss Katherine Wolford, a talented musician, and her friend, Miss Marian Greene, both of Chicago arrived here yesterday for a visit of several days in the Roy Walter home.

A trip to Agua Caliente, Mexico, and San Diego has been planned by the Walters for the pleasure of their guests.

DIRNDLS FOR DEBUTANTES

The dirndl, which has traveled so far in the fashion world since it left its Austrian birthplace, has now been adapted to beach and play clothes for the American deb. Coral and white striped cotton print makes the frock, whose design is reminiscent of the Austrian peasant costume and blue and white cotton print makes the shorts worn under it.

MRS. MINER FETED AT STORK SHOWER

Mrs. George Miner was the guest of honor early this week when Mrs. Merle Wolveston entertained for her at a dainty layette shower in the hostess' home, 718 Orange avenue.

A clever centerpiece of a pink mother stork hanging up the wash for baby stork who reclined under a miniature palm tree decorated the lace-covered table. Pink candles, pink stork napkins, and stork-molds of ice cream further carried out the theme.

Dahlias were the floral decorations used throughout the home, and a pink bassinet full of layette gifts was presented to the honor guest just before the serving of refreshments. Cootie was played during the evening, with high prizes going to Mrs. Gordon Evanson and low to Mrs. Don Crumley.

Guests present to honor Mrs. Miner were the Mesdames Gordon Evanson, Don Crumley, Woody Kemp, Ben McWhorters, Paul Traster, Melvin Patterson, Clyde Hales, Alex Jamieson, Miss Helen Vanderhorst, Miss Helen Coeman, and Miss Ethel Manning.

INFORMAL TEA GIVEN BY MRS. SMITH

The informality of gay beach furniture set in her lovely garden was the theme for a tea Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Roy Smith entertained a few friends in her home on Wassa avenue, Irvine ranch, Tustin.

After a tour of inspection of the home and the lovely grounds surrounding it, the guests gathered under the large bright-colored umbrellas for an afternoon of chatting and sewing. Refreshments were served to the group there.

Guests of Mrs. Smith were Mrs. Lucy Bagley, Mrs. Isabelle Tucker, Mrs. Helen Frye, Miss Percy Head, and Miss Pauline Parsons.

BIRTHDAY FETE

Mrs. Daisy McGee honored John A. Jiles, a former Santa Ana and now stationed at San Pedro, with a little family dinner yesterday, on his birthday anniversary. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Jiles, their daughter, Jean, Russell, Elliot and Mrs. McGee.

Laguna House Setting For Luncheon

Mrs. Rowland Yeagle and Mrs. E. B. Sprague were charming co-hostesses yesterday when they entertained at a luncheon at the Yeagle cottage at Laguna Beach yesterday afternoon. Small tables were centered with dainty yellow zinnias and poppies, and luncheon was served on pretty colored pottery.

The afternoon was spent in many ways, some preserving conversation, some needlework and some contract. Prize winners at bridge were Mrs. W. B. Williams, high, and Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, second.

Guests of Mrs. Yeagle and Mrs. Sprague were Mrs. O. H. Barr, Mrs. F. W. Weissmann, Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. H. J. Forgy, Mrs. O. L. Halsey, Mrs. J. H. Metzger, Mrs. Helen Hill, Mrs. Alex Brownridge, Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, Mrs. W. B. Williams, Mrs. L. A. West, Mrs. E. S. Tradewell, Mrs. R. G. Tuthill, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth, Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Mrs. C. S. Crookshank and Mrs. J. D. Wilson of Newport.

DRUMMS RETURN FROM FOUR WEEKS' TOUR

Judge and Mrs. Frank C. Drumm are at home at 1109 North Broadway after a pleasant four week vacation trip during which they covered some 5000 miles of western country.

They started out by fishing for several days in the High Sierras, after which they went on to Salt Lake City and Denver, and took the Cheyenne road. At Billings they visited a brother of Mrs. Drumm's whom she had not seen in 15 years, and drove from there through Yellowstone.

Doubling back through Idaho they visited friends in Portland, and returned to Santa Ana by way of the Redwood highway, doing some fishing en route.

LAYETTE PARTY SURPRISES MRS. BALDWIN

Completely surprised when a group of friends called at her home, 844 North Birch street, Wednesday evening, Mrs. Inez Baldwin was brought forth layette gifts and refreshments, all in her honor.

With Mrs. Alice Sudduth heading the group as hostess, they decorated the home with pink and blue asters, and presented Mrs. Baldwin with a bassinet of gifts. Pink storks on the napkins gave emphasis to the motif.

Guests who called during the evening were Miss Lucy Hare and the Mesdames Ruth Kemper, Hattie Baer, Maggie Ryherd, Eldora Purington, Alice Sudduth, Vena Sudduth, May Warren, Arline Krepps, Joyce Hase, Evelyn Coutts, Edith Baldwin.

SIGHTSEEING ENTERTAINS EASTERN GUESTS

Sightseeing was enjoyed early this week by Mrs. Susan M. Bower, 1907 North Flower, as she chose that method of entertaining a group of Easterners, all of whom were old neighbors of hers, who were visiting her here.

Guests of Mrs. Bower for the few days were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wright and son Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Guild and daughters Virginia and Gwendolyn Winfield, Kan., and Mrs. E. B. Wood and daughter Jeannette of Newkirk, Okla.

Five Tables Honor Mrs. Hoiles

The friendly welcome that Mrs. F. A. Hoiles of Alliance, Ohio, has had since her arrival here to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hoiles, 1917 Victoria drive, was climaxed yesterday afternoon when her hostess entertained at a bridge luncheon in her honor.

Twenty guests were received by Mrs. Hoiles in her lovely home, which was laden with colorful flowers of all descriptions. The luncheon was served at the five small tables at which bridge was later enjoyed, with beautiful prizes in crystal going to Mrs. Howard Rapp, high, and Mrs. Dexter Ball, second.

Mrs. F. A. Hoiles and her children, Josephine and Frank, plan to return to Ohio late next week. They have divided their time between Mrs. Hoiles' brother-in-law, R. C. Hoiles, and her nephew, Clarence Hoiles and Mrs. Hoiles.

AUNTS FETE VISITOR

To visit two aunts in Santa Ana, Miss Kathleen Cox came here from Phoenix, Ariz., for a short summer vacation. She has been staying at the Maurice Enderle home on Yorba street this week.

During her stay, Mrs. Enderle has made her visit enjoyable with horseback riding and swimming at Balboa. Next week Miss Cox will be a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Howard, 2404 French street, and many affairs have been planned for the young people of the home and their cousin.

BOYERS HAVE IOWA VISITORS

Mrs. Beatrice Crawford and daughter Carol of Burlington, Iowa, have been the guests of the C. P. Boyers, Tustin avenue, for a week during which they have been entertained on various trips.

Short trips in the vicinity were enjoyed, one to Agua Caliente and other to Long Beach where the Boyers took their guests to lunch and later for an inspection tour of the shipyard at Wilmington.

OKLAHOMANS RETURN HOME

After spending several weeks vacationing in Santa Ana at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman on McFadden street, Mrs. L. R. Richardson and daughter Virginia will leave Sunday morning for their home in Enid, Okla.

Mrs. M. E. King of Los Angeles, another sister of Mrs. Hoffman, is also visiting here for several days and will remain until the Oklahoma visitors leave.

Mary Stoddard Get Reconciled to Marriage Is Advice to Married Couples Who Have Separations

In these hectic modern times we need a textbook entitled "Get Reconciled to Marriage!"

Husbands and wives quarrel—one or the other or both fly out the door—later one or the other or both are repentant, make up and go back and light the hearthfire again! There are more couples than we know of who repeatedly disagree, separate, make up and live together happily again.

A young couple who sign themselves "Mr. and Mrs. M." put their problem to us today. They have quarreled and separated four times over their five-year period of marriage. Friends tell Mrs. M. that this is a sure sign that she's married the wrong man and advise her to get a divorce. She's not so sure about this, so that's why they wrote the note. They are always happy, sometimes happier than before when they make up after a separation. Should they call it off permanently?

Mr. and Mrs. M. are taking themselves too seriously, or should turn a stone deaf ear to their meddling friends.

It's a pretty good bet to say that few couples ever lived who haven't cherished the desire to get out of each other's customs and habits, moods and manners, now and then. Lack of finances keep many people happily married. That, and family responsibilities.

No man and woman ever will know how often their spouses have departed spiritually—how many times he or she has withdrawn to an inner mental stratum and stayed there until some problem had adjusted itself.

Meantime, the other never knew of the absence. A chain of phrases—"Please pass the butter," "Did you have a good day?" "We must have the Millers for dinner," kept the departure from being noted.

Suddenly, the missing one returned, and the other never knew he had been away.

So, dear Mr. and Mrs. M.: You are not the exception, but the rule, except, perhaps that you separate in a more spectacular manner than the many husbands and wives who separate every hour. They wouldn't be human if they didn't. But they don't go very far. They retire for a time into emotional privacy, regain their poise, polish up their sense of humor, and greet each other with increased joy. They do so while sitting on the opposite sides of the fireplace, or in two wicker chairs on the same veranda.

There's nothing unusual about it. It's life—and marriage and every married couple could get reconciled to marriage.

You two, Mr. and Mrs. M. love one another, or you wouldn't kiss and make up. When one or the other, or both, get into a tantrum, why not try this plan of separating mentally until your anger

LITTLE GIRL IS HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY

Beverly Joan Eilers' second birthday anniversary Wednesday was celebrated in festive fashion when her mother, Mrs. George Eilers of 316 East Myrtle street, entertained at a lovely party in her home.

Mothers and their children, the latter ranging from three and a half months to three and a half years in age, spent the afternoon in the shady garden, where a sandpile and a live duck created many diversions for the kiddies. Ice cream cones delighted the children at the time the beautiful white birthday cake was served, and little Beverly Joan had a gay time opening all sorts of presents.

Present for the pleasant affair were Mrs. Ray Kaufman with Kay Lynn, Mrs. Edward Elsinore with Bobbie and Jackie, Mrs. Miles Sangster with Donna and Sandra; Mrs. Charles Rinehart with Julia Kay; Mrs. Lowell Schmid with Stewart and Charlene; Mrs. Harold Bushman with Virginia; Mrs. Ralph Adams with Farrell; Mrs. Otto Schroeder, Mrs. John Heath with Bobbie and John, Jr.; Mrs. Paul Bakenhauf and Gene; Miss Leola Schroeder.

Mrs. Joe Witt, Mrs. Melvin Witt, Mrs. Charles Morgan with Kenneth and Edward, and Mrs. Albert Brubaker with Richard, all of Orange; Mrs. LeRoy Connelly and Barbara of Tustin; Mrs. Harry Conklin and Janice of Pomona; Mrs. Charles Tannier and Jannece of Anaheim; and Mrs. Glenn Moody and Raymond of San Juan Capistrano.

SAM NAUS TOURING EAST

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Naus, Prospect avenue, who left recently for a month's vacation in the east, are now in Dayton, Ohio, where Mr. Naus will enter a national championship shooting contest after winning honors all over Southern California.

While on their trip in the East, the Naus will visit other points of interest. Mrs. Sarah Walker of Inglewood is staying with her daughter, Cathrene, in the Naus home during their absence.

Houseguests Feted By Mozleys

As an added courtesy to their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mozley entertained a group of friends at a charming dessert bridge party last night in their home, 120 West Eighteenth street, with bouquets of lovely zinnias as the floral motif.

Miss Louise Pearce and Mrs. O. F. Freeman, who will be guests of the Mozleys here for several weeks more, were complimented at last night's affair.

Prizes during the bridge session were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Diehl for high and Mr. and Mrs. Carson Smith for second.

Refreshments were served at the small tables, centered with tiny bud vases holding lovely blooms. Guests of the Mozleys were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Diehl, Dr. and Mrs. K. H. Sutherland, Mrs. Allan Elston, Mrs. W. E. Chastain, Mrs. Fleetwood Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant and St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. R. C. Edwards of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Backus of Orange, Miss Pearce and Mrs. Freeman.

FEATHERLYS VISIT COL. HOLDERMAN

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Featherly have returned to their home on North Ross street after a pleasant vacation trip following their attendance at the state American Legion convention at Stockton.

They spent several days in San Francisco, and visited Col. Nelson M. Holderman, well-known former Orange county resident, who is now commandant at Napa. Colonel Holderman was unable to attend the convention because of complications from his war wounds, but his many friends will be glad to learn of his recovery, and that he will be up and about in another week.

Club Member Is Surprise Honoree

The departure of Mrs. John Ortiz for Los Angeles, where she will make her home in the future, was incentive last night for a surprise party during which two co-hostesses and their guests showered her with lovely handkerchiefs.

Miss Helen Mahe entertaining in her home, was joined by Mrs. Harriet Jones as co-hostess. Bridge was played during the evening with prizes awarded to Mrs. Pauline Duckett for high and Mrs. Esther Rannels for low.

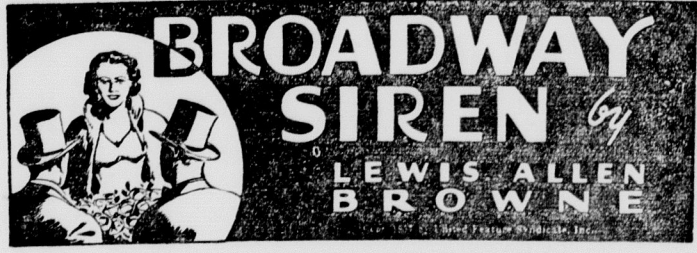

A dessert course served at the close of the play, was climaxed by the presentation of gifts to Mrs. Ortiz. She has been a charter member of Boot 'n Spur riding club, members of which made up the party.

FOURSOME IS FETED AT BEACH

Mrs. William Salisbury, who has been spending a few days vacationing at Escondido, entertained small groups of her friends during informal afternoons in the beach city.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Salisbury entertained Mrs. Alvin Nozmy, Mrs. Mabel Lambert, and Mrs. E. C. Ervin at her beach cottage for an informal luncheon and foursome of contract.

Coffee is harvested in Mexico from October to February. In Central America two or three pickings are required because of the unequal maturity of the crop.

BROADWAY SIREN

LEWIS ALLEN BROWNE

Lola Larkin, English star in a Broadway show, is urged by Winfield Balcom to marry him. Senator Balcom, his father, retains a clever woman lawyer, Martha Carter, to prevent the seeming mesalliance. Norman Standish, Englishman, brings his bride, Cora, from abroad and meets Lola secretly. Cora discovers this and goes to her best friend, the same Martha Carter, to get her to bribe Lola to keep away from Standish. Lola indignantly refuses. Cora gets her husband to take her to Hollywood, hoping to get rid of Lola. The season closes for Lola's show. She suddenly decides to go to Hollywood herself.

CHAPTER XXIII

"WE CAN take only one large suit case each," Lola told her maid. "I believe that is the rule."

"Can you tie that, Miss Lola?" Imogene exclaimed. "Why, you can't get your shoes into one suit case, to say nothing of your wardrobe."

"I can buy clothes out there. There have just as good shops as here."

Three o'clock in the morning arrived before Lola was satisfied with her selections and the packing.

"You get some sleep, Imogene," she ordered. "I have to write some letters."

The maid brought cold black coffee and half dead for sleep, reported. Lola wrote first to Winfield. Part of her letter was:

"I am sure, my dear boy, that I made it clear to you that I would be no wedding bells until your parents gave their entire approval of me. That seems to be the old situation of an irresistible force meeting an immovable object."

"When you get this, I will be flying to Hollywood. My reason is that I want to investigate that picture offer. I will send you a letter and my address. I may be back within a week and visit Ollie with you on her island, or I may stay out there, have a rest and try my luck at pictures."

The remainder of Lola's writing was brief. It was a telegram to Norman Standish, telling him that she was flying out to Hollywood.

She telephoned for a night messenger, gave him the telegram, and also the letter to Winfield, to be delivered to him at the Waldritz at ten o'clock in the morning. By that time, she would be miles away, headed for Hollywood.

SHE felt better. The long incision had annoyed her. Now she knew what was ahead of her for a few weeks, at least.

It did not occur to her, however, that she should notify Martha Carter of her plans. In fact, after sending Martha the check for her advice about the contract, she forgot about her.

Lola, with her maid, arrived at the airport, in the morning, with five minutes to spare—in barely sufficient time to arrange the transportation, get aboard, and see Newark, the Hudson river and the towers of Manhattan fade away below and beyond her.

Winfield Balcom was dressing when a messenger brought Lola's letter.

The poor chap seemed to be completely stunned. At first he thought that his father might have been, in some way, responsible for this. He changed his mind, on more sober thought.

In the first place, Lola would not be influenced by his father. Moreover, he had seen Victor Mansfield in Lola's dressing room on two

Rest Periods Needed By Matrons

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Rest periods are necessary to the health and beauty of older women. With her housework or her job and her daily beauty routine, it may seem the matron has little time to spare for rest. But with practice and corner-cutting wherever possible, it will take less time than you would think.

When you are going out for an evening, try to allow yourself a whole hour in addition to dressing time for a beauty nap. Cleanse your skin and apply a liberal film of nourishing cream. You can have a bath first if you feel very nervous and tense, or you can simply give yourself a quick facial and take a quick shower or cool tubbing later to wake you up again.

If you want to stay youthful and smart-looking you must get enough rest and sleep. After your nap, remove any cream that remains on your skin and sponge with skin freshener. If your skin is fairly firm and youthful you can apply your make-up without the aid of a foundation cream or lotion, but if there are fine lines or your skin is uneven in texture you will find that a make-up is a great help.

Be sure to get a cream that matches your skin in tone. Squeeze a pad of cotton out of cold water and dip into the foundation cream or douse with a liquid make-up base and apply evenly and sparingly to your skin. While the skin is still slightly moist blend cream rouge over the cheeks and natural color tends to appear. Blend the color sparingly so you have only a faint natural flush.

Now powder, but don't use too much! If someone could stand behind the older woman and remind her that one application of powder is enough, she would be doing her a great service. Use lots of powder on your puff and press it liberally over your skin until you literally look like you've been dipped in a flour barrel. Then take a clean piece of cotton and go over your skin to blend the powder and remove every particle that isn't needed.

THE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Here and There With Southern California Artists

By DONALD BUTTON

The Friday Afternoon takes pleasure in presenting—

Wesley Wall, new president of the Laguna Beach Art association! Wall, a landscape architect and builder by vocation, brings a much needed vigor and vision that is needed to the Laguna Beach art scene.

New to gallery executive responsibility, he has shown the practical application of the fine arts to his building.

He has given careful consideration, with a certain humor, to the problems of the gallery which he now heads.

Wesley Wall, I believe, equal to giving the Laguna Gallery the life, the light touch it has so long needed!

Cook can be credited with turning Saturday's brawl and emotional melee into a creditable election through his well-spoken challenge to a group verging upon childish revenge.

To him also the credit for the International Photographic show recently seen at Laguna as well as the guarantee that it will be an annual feature in the gallery.

He has declined to serve as vice-president of the association.

Happy Birthday

MRS. GEORGE T. CALHOUN, 1612 Louise street.

MRS. MARY A. BOEHNER, 1516 West First street.

NO NAMES! Happy Family. Little Ruth was sent to school for the first time, and the teacher asked her what her father's name was.

"Daddy," she answered, smiling. "But what does your mamma call him?"

"She don't call him nuthin'." "She answered earnestly. "She likes him."—War Cry.

'Waves' Way Influence Life

By C. N. CHRISMAN, M.D.

Because life exists in all tissues, through those tissues pulses a constant flow of what we usually call energy. The term "waves" is used most often because there is a certain rhythm of character to this life flow.

Anything that shines, burns or pulses is giving off waves of energy after its own pattern. In this field of wave frequency or wave lengths, science has done its most significant work in demonstrating the degree or intensity of radiated energy which may be used in promoting growth and countering disease.

The difference in wave lengths, is all that distinguishes light, heat, radio or Roentgen rays. Just how all these rays perform their various functions is not fully known. It constitutes an unsolved mystery story and perhaps we shall never get to the last chapter. We continue to take notes, to compare facts, and to experiments in results.

A fascinating story comes from the Adriatic Sea. In the limestone caves along the shore lives a strange, blind, water-breathing little creature known as the olm. It is like a tadpole, with tiny limbs, pink skin, and has only the rudiments of eyes. When it is brought to the surface and exposed to white light, the skin turns black. In a red light however, the skin remains unchanged but the eyes grow larger and sight develops.

The difference in color being the ray of light, the scientist is tempted to further explore the effect of these varying rays on only a difference in wave length of human life and health. The prevailing question is whether we have ever been able to combine radiations and get results that may be measured and tabulated. Will the medical specialist of the future be able, like a musician, to compose harmonies of life and health by striking various notes in the vibrating ray spectrum of the universe?

Perhaps, the discussion goes on, the natural stamina wherein one person may have great endurance and another be easily exhausted depends upon the ability of these waves to receive and utilize these pulsing rays to which we may expose ourselves where ever the sun shines.

MRS. MARY A. BOEHNER, 1516 West First street.

NO NAMES! Happy Family. Little Ruth was sent to school for the first time, and the teacher asked her what her father's name was.

"Daddy," she answered, smiling. "But what does your mamma call him?"

"She don't call him nuthin'." "She answered earnestly. "She likes him."—War Cry.

NEWS OF THE WORLD

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The lass from the country had come to town, her first visit in six weeks, she said. As we walked along the boulevard, restaurant-bound for lunch, old friends greeted her with the surprised enthusiasm usually reserved for out-of-towners.

And that's what she is, this Ann Dvorak, an out-of-towner. So is Leslie Fenton, her husband. Country-life-in-Hollywood, as they practice it, is really something. They have been country-folk on their 65-acre ranch near Van Nuys about four years now, and they don't miss Hollywood and they think they never will. They work here—but they live at home. Home is only half an hour or so from Van Nuys and Hollywood boulevard, but they don't often make the trip.

CRAZY ABOUT FLOWERS—Ann looks like a walking advertisement of the life. Smoothly tanned, healthy, bright-eyed. Hasn't gone hayseed—I don't mean that. When she comes to town she dresses smartly, as a movie actress should. When she stays home, she wears slacks or shorts or overalls, and works.

The Fentons have a rambling Spanish-type farmhouse that has been growing almost constantly since they built it. They have a swimming pool, flowers, chickens, birds, even a wild rabbit. The "money crop" is walnuts. They cleared about $6000 on these last year. Ann is more interested in the flowers. She works there even when there are no cameras around.

"They're fascinating," she says. "When you really love flowers and study them, working with them is something like—a religious rite."

They have a glass house and a lathe house—and camellias, gardenias and other floral aristocrats are fairly commonplace. The Fentons' parties and dinners are taken blue ribbons at the last flower show. Ann has a friend in Central

HERBERT MARSHALL and Glenda Farrell were doing a breakfast table scene for "A Love Like That."

Glenda had some startling news and Marshall was supposed to choke over his coffee. Director Al Santell asked Marshall if he would sputter the coffee just a bit—if he didn't think it too undignified. "You know," said Marshall, "I've always wanted to do a scene like that and no director would ever allow it."

Amos (Freeman Gosden) and Andy (Charles Correll) kissed the bride after ceremony here yesterday. She'll rejoin the program of the two black-face comedians after visiting Honolulu, British Columbia and Lake Louise.

Amos and Andy Aide Married

HOLLYWOOD, (P)—Elinor Harriot, impersonator of all the women in Amos and Andy's radio life, went on a honeymoon yesterday with Frank Nathan, insurance man.

Amos (Freeman Gosden) and Andy (Charles Correll) kissed the bride after ceremony here yesterday. She'll rejoin the program of the two black-face comedians after visiting Honolulu, British Columbia and Lake Louise.

EARLY SHOW ON SATURDAY

A special early matinee will be presented at the West Coast theater tomorrow for the benefit of theatergoers from out of town and early shoppers, it was announced today by Manager Lester J. Fountain. The show will start at 12:45, and continue on through the day.

The featured attraction at the West Coast is "Broadway Melody of 1938," scintillating musical comedy-romance co-starring Robert Taylor and Eleanor Powell, the world's premiere feminine tap dancer. With the two stars in the picture are George Murphy, Binnie Barnes, Buddy Ebsen, Sophie Tucker, Judy Garland and other popular players. A chorus of beautiful girls adds color and gaiety to the fast-moving film. Gorgeous sets, a strong plot and plenty of music, romance and comedy feature the big picture.

Second feature on the program is "Think Fast, Mr. Moto," starring Peter Lorre, the screen's master impersonator, in the role of Mr. Moto, the famous fictional sleuth created by J. P. Marquand in his Saturday Evening Post stories. Virginia Field and Thomas Beck are featured in the romantic roles. Victims of an international smuggling ring headed by Sig Rumann, the couple is in a precarious position in a pre-war Shanghai cafe until Mr. Moto doffs his timid demeanor and starts things moving in the right direction.

BE R-ASONABLE

Mike was smoking in the waiting room of a railway station. A porter said to him, "Don't you see that notice on the wall—'No Smoking Allowed'?"

"Yes, I do," answered Mike, "but how can I kape all the rules? There's another sign on the wall, 'Wear Gossard Corsets.'"

13 PILOTS IN BENDIX AIR TROPHY RACE

Dick Merrill May Be Fourteenth Entry

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Thirteen pilots and 14 planes have been entered in the Bendix trophy dash to the 1937 national air races at Cleveland, Chairman Larry Therkelson of the Bendix race committee, said today.

A tentative 14th contestant is Dick Merrill, transatlantic flier. The $25,000 Bendix speed event is to start from Union Air terminal, Burbank, late on the night of Sept. 2 or early in the morning of Sept. 3.

Col. Roscoe Turner, veteran cross-country speedster, has entered two planes. He has not chosen a pilot for his second ship. Milo Burcham, Long Beach, upside down flying champion, will serve as pilot for F. C. Hall, wealthy Oklahoma oil man and backer of the late Wiley Post. Hall and Mrs. Hall plan to accompany Burcham.

So far, only one woman pilot, Jacqueline Cochran of New York, has entered the race.

Other pilots entered in this year's dash are: Frank Fuller, San Francisco; Capt. Alex Papania of the Rumanian army; S. J. Wittman, Oshkosh, Wis.; Reginald Robbins, Ft. Worth, Texas; Jack Wright, New York; Capt. William Perry, U. S. coast guard; Sunny Sundorphy, Cleveland, and Earle Gorman, Bob Berlick and Paul Mantz, all of Los Angeles.

PATTERN 5678

Knit little Miss Four-to-Eight this jaunty "Princess" coat and matching tam and see how smartly turned out she'll be for school or best! In a colorful sports yarn they'll be warm, durable and inexpensive. Tam and coat are mainly stockinette stitch with a checker-board design for the yoke, cuffs and tam's border. In pattern 5678 you will find directions for making the coat and hat in 4, 6 and 8 year size; illustrations of them and of all stitches used; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

Fugitive From Sneeze Gang Gives Hay Fever 'Cures'

By PAT YALE

CHICAGO. (AP)—I am a fugitive from a sneeze gang, but Sheriff Pollen's hot breath fans my neck and tickles my nose at every turn.

People shy away from me on trains and in other public places, apparently fearing my red, running eyes, my sneezes and my wet handkerchiefs with which I am armed.

Nearly 25 years of the affliction has convinced me hay fever is Public Enemy No. 1-A. Social ambitions are forgotten, work during the day is difficult and sleep at night well-nigh impossible.

The mere mention of hay fever—kerchoooo—makes me sneeze; polite inquiry as to my general health fills my eyes with the wettest of tears; passing a florist's shop tickles my throat and races my temperature up, and this question drives me crazy: "What is hay fever, anyhow; just a bad cold?"

My best reply is a paraphrase of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman's famous statement, "Hay fever is hell."

These same persons who don't even know what it is are the first to come forward with pet remedies. They range from holding your head under water for 30 minutes to stepping in front of a steam train. I feel at times that both suggestions have their good points.

More sensible relief-getters—there is no known cure—are (1) avoid meats, eggs, nuts, uncooked fruits and other high-protein foods; (2) avoid dust, weeds and sunlight; (3) remain in a closed room with washed air; (4) go to one of the few places where hay fever is never found.

After all these years, I still hope for an honest to goodness blizzard in August or an early frost.

Yes, hay fever is hell. Kerchoooo!

NAVY PROBES SHIP EXPLOSION

PREDICT LOWER MEAT PRICES

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—A naval board of inquiry examined twisted wreckage in the fire room of the U. S. destroyer Cassin today seeking the cause for bursting of a steam line yesterday that killed seven men, six civilian employees and an enlisted man, and scalded eight others.

Killed by jets of live steam and fragments of the ruptured pipe were W. T. McCallum, Philadelphia, an enlisted man, and Joseph Vassuluzzi, Michael Scavo, William Mehl and Louis Sherry, all of Philadelphia; George Dreisbach, Oaklyn, N. J., and Daniel Autier, Camden, N. J., civilian employees.

The Cassin had been in drydock for several days, where civilian employees and naval workers under Lieutenant Marshall had completed repairs to the ship's steam line.

Steam pressure was raised for testing when one of the main lines burst, filling the fireroom with live steam.

CHICAGO. (AP)—Meat consumers pocketbooks now being burned by last year's drought may get substantial relief before the year ends, livestock market diagnoses indicated today.

Recent declines in wholesale pork cuts are the highest in seven years, presage lower meat costs for retail buyers.

Figures on butcher shop windows throughout the nation disclosed prices of some beef and pork cuts the highest in seven years or more. Material reduction in prices, market observers agreed, depended upon increased receipts at slaughtering centers this fall and winter.

KILLED IN FALL
TAFT. (AP)—A fall from a ladder in the San Joaquin Light and Power company warehouse here killed Don Wilson, 21. Cause of his fall was not determined.

Deep Dish Salmon Pie Will Intrigue

Salmon makes a tasty main dish for any meal. Those who like salmon or sea food never get tired of it. Visitors to our part of the country marvel at our sea food so why not try this recipe on them.

DEEP DISH SALMON PIE

Ingredients required: One 15-ounce can salmon, 1 1/2 cups cooked corn, 3 tablespoons melted fat or salad oil, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, 1 cup water, 1 cup evaporated milk, flaky pastry.

Flake salmon; combine with corn. Heat fat or oil; stir in flour, salt, pepper. Add water, evaporated milk. Cook over hot water, stirring until thick. Add salmon; pour in casserole. Top with pastry. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F) for 20 minutes. Serves 4.

GUM DROP COOKIES

Ingredients required: Four eggs, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cold water, 2 cups flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup gum drops cut in small pieces, 1 cup nut meats.

Beat eggs until light and fluffy. Add brown sugar slowly while beating constantly, then add the cold water.

Sift together flour, salt and cinnamon and blend into sugar-egg mixture. Beat well. Add gum drops and nut meats. Pour into greased square or oblong pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for approximately 30 minutes. Cut into fingers or squares.

FROZEN DATE SALAD

Ingredients required: Two cups pitted dates, cut in small pieces; 1/2 cup water, 2 packages cream cheese, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 cup cream, whipped.

Place dates and water in saucepan and cook over a low heat until soft. Cool slightly. Cream the cheese until light and fluffy; then add the dates and the lemon juice and blend thoroughly. Fold in whipped cream. Pour in freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator and freeze at coldest degree possible. Cut in squares and serve in nests of lettuce. Top with mayonnaise and a marachino cherry.

Germans Ban U. S. Production

AMSTERDAM. (AP)—The burgo-master of The Hague today banned production of the play, "Judgment Day" by the American playwright, Elmer Rice, because it "too clearly alluded to the Reichstag fire trial."

Marinus Van Der Lubbe, a young Dutchman, was convicted at Leipzig, Germany, and beheaded Oct. 1, 1934, as a Communist incendiary who set fire to Berlin's Reichstag building. Communists declared Van Der Lubbe was a Nazi "plant" to throw the guilt upon them.

'Flying Fort' Hops Success

MARCH FIELD. (AP)—Recent test hops of the army air corps new flying fortresses showed the giant bombing planes were capable of staying aloft 4800 miles with military effectiveness.

There were reports here that plans were being made at Langley field headquarters of the air force to send three of the big military planes from Oakland to Hawaii next month, carrying a normal load.

OIL ENRICHES SCHOOLS
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas public schools are believed to be the wealthiest in the nation. They own between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 acres of land, and much of it is either producing oil or is considered potentially productive.

CANADIANS FAVOR LASH PUNISHMENT

Battle Move to End Whipping Unpopular

By SAM WILLIAMS
VANCOUVER, B. C. (American Wire)—The movement on foot to abolish the whipping post for criminals in British Columbia will never get anywhere, according to police officials and criminologists here, who believe the lash will remain a permanent part of the Canadian punitive system as it has since English law was established here.

"The lash, in cases of crimes of violence, is one of the greatest deterrents to crime, and every police official in the province would fight to retain it," a prominent police official told me.

FELONS LEAVE

"British Columbia has one of the lowest percentages of crimes in the world—and it does this because the least number of 'repeaters'—men who commit identical crimes of violence again and again.

"The lash is the answer to that. Men who plan robberies think twice before they carry guns to kill persons, for across their mind falls the shadow of the dreaded whip.

"And those who once have tasted the cat are very careful never to come back for a second time.

WOMEN OPOSE LASH

In British Columbia, certain women's organizations have started a movement to eliminate the lash. Their theory is the one which has generally been adopted in the United States—that the lash is a cruel medieval punishment, degrading alike to the person lashed, to the person who swings the whip, and to the nation which sanctions the punishment.

But British Columbia officials are lined up solidly against any change in the law, pointing to its record as proof that the lash is a good instrument for the law.

Posts on Goal For College--Pro Grid Tilt

CHICAGO, (AP)—The goal posts again will be at "close range" when the college all-stars battle the Green Bay Packers, world professional grid champions, at Soldier Field the night of Sept. 1. At a meeting of the all-star coaching staff, headed by Gus Dorais of the University of Detroit, and Coach Curly Lambeau of the Packers, it was decided to place the uprights on the goal line instead of on the end lines, their position under college rules. Another important rule agreed upon involves the dead ball regulation. Under the college code, when a ball carrier touches any part of his body except hands or feet to the ground, the ball is declared dead at the spot. In the all-star contest this will apply except when a carrier falls in the open and no defensive man is nearer than 10 yards. The responsibility of estimating the distance will fall on the referee.

Greenberg, Gehrig And Dickey Lead 'Yesterday Stars'

NEW YORK, (AP)—Three of the American league's biggest guns, Hank Greenberg of the Tigers and Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey of the Yankees, deadlocked for honors as the stars of big league baseball's month of play ended today. Each was mentioned five times during the 30-day span in the Associated Press' list of "Yesterday's Stars," compiled daily to include those players who played the biggest part in their teams' victories. Greenberg's five for the month boosted him into tie with Dickey, who led the Yankees and Ducky Medwick of the Cardinals for the season's honors. Each has been credited with 13 "mentions" on the star list so far during the campaign.

Budge, Grant and Parker, Riggs in Court Semi-Finals

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—The law of averages, which controls almost everything, including tennis draws, paired two super-players who are far off their games and two consistent stars today in the semi-finals of the Newport casino tournament. The nation's first four ranking players were the survivors—Don Budge, the Davis cup ace; two of his teammates, Bryan (Bills) Grant and Frankie Parker, and Bobby Riggs, the sensational 19-year-old California who has dominated the Eastern turf court season.

Thil Impressed by Joe Louis' Drills

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. (AP)—Marcel Thil, the French middleweight champion, has seen Joe Louis and approves—"Mals out!" The bald Frenchman sat in yesterday while Louis boxed six rounds with three sparring partners. "Joe showed punching power with either hand, and his punches don't travel far," said Marcel. "He did some fine defensive work."

Fred Funk Appears In Dallas Game

DALLAS, (AP)—Pan-American Exposition officials said today Fred Funk, all-Pacific Coast conference backfield ace from the University of California at Los Angeles, would participate in the college all-star-Chicago Bears football game here Sept. 6. Funk sent word yesterday he would play.

TOKYO, (AP)—Thousands of Japanese girls and women have discarded their time-honored kimono, obi (sash) and geta (wooden sandals) for American-style clothes. Foreign fashion experts here say that in another decade Japan probably will be completely western in its dressing gown.

Almost all of the school girls and boys now wear American clothes, which are considered not only smarter, but more practical and hygienic. Cheaper Wedding Gowns But it is perhaps in wedding attire that the greatest change has come. Most smart Japanese women prefer American or European wedding gowns, not so much for the style as for economy. In Japan a native wedding kimono costs from $100 to $300, while a modish western wedding gown may be made for one-third that price.

And when Japanese youths marry, they discard their native kimono dress, which some believe makes them look "plebeian," in favor of the conventional western "tuxedo" garb. Formerly most men in Japan regarded a foreign-style suit as a luxury, but now it is worn for business and on all formal occasions.

Ten years ago Japanese girls who wore foreign-style apparel were regarded as flappers, or even as immoral. Today many Japanese parents, who usually are orthodox and nationalistic, favor western garments for their daughters. Figures Improving With the gradual discontinuance among mothers of the old practice of carrying their babies on their back—which often gave the children "pigeon-toes" or "bandy-legs"—the figures of Japanese girls and boys have greatly improved so they wear western clothes more gracefully. But Japanese women, Americans here think, still look far better in their traditional kimono and obi because of their difference in stature and build.

C. L. GIFFORD DIES TODAY

A resident of California for 52 years, Charles L. Gifford, 71, died at his home on West Broadway, Anaheim, early this morning after an extended illness.

Mr. Gifford was a native of Iowa, but moved to California in 1885. He has lived in Anaheim for the past 10 years and was a member of the Nazarene church there. He was also a member of the Southern California lodge, No. 278, F. and A. M. of the Royal Arch chapter.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara B. Gifford, one sister, Mrs. Samuel Pinkston of Fair Oaks, Calif.; and two granddaughters, Marion Gifford and Charles Gifford, both of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be held from the Hilgenfeld funeral home at 2 p. m. Monday. The Rev. J. P. Wear, pastor of the Nazarene church, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Cora B. Isham, former pastor. Interment will be in the family plot in Evergreen cemetery.

MARTIN GIVEN STATE JOB

Seldon K. Martin, former assistant director of the county welfare department, today announced his acceptance of a social service position with the State Relief Administration in San Francisco. He will report for work Monday, he said.

The former assistant director tendered his resignation to the local post Aug. 1, and has been replaced by Mrs. Belle J. Spangler. He had held the county position since Jan. 18.

Both he and Mrs. Martin will make their home in San Francisco, he stated. Martin has been active in social welfare work for some time, having received his master's degree in the school of social welfare work at the University of Southern California. He is a registered social worker of California, and a member of the Association of Social Workers. He has also worked with the State Relief board.

NON-SUPPORT
Judge Chris P. Pann ruled yesterday that Octavio Murrieta, 322 Adams street, must pay $15 a month to the county probation department, and be on probation for two years when the defendant was found guilty of non-support of an unborn child. A sentence of one year in the county jail was suspended.

Gambirinus, a mythical Flemish king, is credited with the first brewing of beer.

NEW YORK SHIP STRIKE CALLED

NEW YORK, (AP)—A strike against six coastwise steamship lines was called today by the National Maritime Union, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Union officials said the lines had issued passes to delegates of the American Federation of Labor's International Longshoremen's association permitting them to board vessels and seek members for the seamen's branch of the longshoremen.

The lines affected were the Clyde-Mallory, Bull, Savannah, Waterman, New York and Cuba Mail and New York and Puerto Rico. The seamen were ordered by the union simply to sit down and refuse to work during the strike's duration.

Bail $10,000 in Bad Check Case

With bail set at $10,000, Ralph W. Moon, 718 Kilson drive, today was awaiting preliminary examination on a charge of issuing a forged check Aug. 2.

He was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff James Musick and booked in the county jail after a warrant for his arrest had been issued by Judge Chris P. Pann. He is charged with forging a check of $125.00 Aug. 2 in the name of L. H. Moon, 220 West Center street, Anaheim.

Mrs. Arch Henry of the Henry Brothers Drug store, Anaheim, is the complaining witness. The check was drawn on the Anaheim branch of the Bank of America.

Preliminary examination has been set for Aug. 24 at 9 a. m. in Santa Ana justice court.

Ten Pay Fines For Speeding

Ten persons were fined for speeding in Judge J. G. Mitchell's court yesterday. Jack S. Haney, Fullerton, was fined $2 for having four persons in the front seat.

Those fined for speeding were B. M. McDonald, Fullerton, $15; W. E. Warren, Los Angeles, $8; Jack Haney, Fullerton, $8; Richard A. Hoevel, Sierra Madre, $8; Stanley Richter, La Verne, $8; William G. Ryan, Artesia, $8; Carrie L. De Ventura, Los Angeles, $6; Robert E. L. Cleveland, Laguna Beach, $5, and Donald Redmond, Glendale, $8.

Clifton Watkins, Anaheim, was fined $15 for speeding, and also $2 for having four persons in the front seat.

Drunken Driver Gets $100 Fine

After pleading guilty to charges of drunk driving, Jesus A. Molina, Fullerton, was sentenced to 50 days in county jail or a $100 fine by Judge H. I. Spence in Fullerton justice court this morning. Molina was arrested last night at Santa Fe and Placentia avenue west of Placentia by Deputy Sheriff Fred Swartz and Ives Brown after a chase for about a mile. Felix Araiza, Molina's companion, was booked in the county jail on a drunk charge.

Thieves Return Ketti's Jewels

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Twenty-five thousand dollars' worth of jewels and furs, reported stolen from Actress Ketti Gallian last Sunday, were returned to her mysteriously early today in a suitcase dumped on the front porch of her canyon home.

The French beauty was entertaining a party of friends when her butler notified her of a suspicious noise outside. Investigating, they found the suitcase, but called Detective Lieutenants Jack Stambler and Jack Dineen to open it.

Out tumbled ermine, sable and fox furs and jewelry. Everything taken by "paseky burglars" was there except three bottles of perfume. "The whole thing is fantastic," Miss Gallian exclaimed.

Illustrator for Dickens Dies

DENVER, (AP)—John Sanderson Dalziel, 98, a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, who illustrated some of the first works of his friend, Charles Dickens, died at his home here last night.

Dalziel started learning the art of wood engraving at the age of 13, at a bench in a London publishing house or which his father, Sir Robert Dalziel, was the senior member. The firm published many of Dickens' works.

ALPHA BETA HAS NEW FREE PARKING LOT FOR PATRONS

By A. "WILL" GERRARD

We have just acquired a new, large parking lot at the corner of Third street and Spurgeon which will be for the free use of our patrons. All you need do to avail yourself of this convenience is to call at our store at 301 East Fourth St. and ask for a "Courtesy" card. This card will entitle you to park on this lot at any time and we want you to take advantage of it. It's just another way of showing you that we appreciate your patronage. This week, I want to introduce to you Lars Rold, in charge of our meat department at Store No. 2, at 318 West Fourth St. Rold is a native of Copenhagen, Denmark and came to this country twenty-three years ago. Has been a butcher since he was 12 years old and came from a family of butchers and cattle buyers. He came to Santa Ana four years ago to work for the Alpha Beta organization. Rold says that one of the reasons that he likes to work for Alpha Beta is that it affords him the opportunity to sell his customers only the finest cuts of meat. He is a member of the Elks, Odd Fellows, Christian Missionary Alliance Church and lives at 604 North Van Ness. Has one son, Barney, twenty years old.

The Old Skin Game Ought To Be Played

By BETTY CLARKE

AP Feature Service Writer
A brunette with a sallow skin doesn't look her best in chartreuse green.
To prove it, all she needs is a frank friend who will hold a piece of chartreuse colored cloth under her chin, step back a few paces, and study the effect. It doesn't take an artist to see that the chartreuse brings out all the yellow in this brunette's skin—and it had more than its share of yellow to start with. The brunette can see for herself, if she looks in a mirror.

All right. Now hold a piece of pure green under the chin of our sallow brunette. There's a different story. The pure green more nearly harmonizes with the brunette's skin. Then try brown, rust and rose beige. Those colors, she'll find, are best of all.

YOU MUST EXPERIMENT
The experimental method is the only one to use, says Miss Muriel Cox of Boston, who has given advice on clothing to hundreds of student stylists and department store executives.

She carries a huge bag of sample materials around with her, and tries them out whenever anyone asks, "What colors should I wear?"

But before she takes up cloth colors, she tests the color of the questioner's skin by holding against her forehead a card with a peephole cut in it. Your forehead gives your true skin color—"background color," Miss Cox calls it. Checks are "foreground color" and shouldn't be considered when buying clothes.

With the aid of the peephole, an amateur can see what color predominates in her skin—pink, purple, yellow or brown.

The skin is the most important detail to consider when picking clothes colors. Hair and eyes rank second, says Miss Cox. But she makes two exceptions:

If you have blue or blue-green eyes—in which case play them up. If you have red hair—in which case you must think of it first.

SOME CONCLUSIONS
Here are some of Miss Cox's conclusions:

Many persons wear colors that are too obvious, such as bright red, for instance, which separates the foreground from the background. Try blended colors, peach or dull blue, instead.

Green is the most flattering color. It brings out the pink in the skin. Navy blue, contrary to salesgirls who swear you look your best in blue, is dangerous. Only women with lots of pink in their skin should attempt it.

Women with pink in their skins can wear a greater variety of colors than women with skins of yellow or tan pigmentation. But here's the catch—they don't look so well as the yellows and tans who wear fewer colors, but with more dash.

Owners of carrot hair should stick to dark or dull colors, preferably grays and green-blues. They need to tone down their fiery hair.

WATCH YOUR MAKE-UP
Red-haired people, by the way, are the easiest to dress or the most difficult, depending on their pigmentation. A pink skin with red hair is particularly difficult, and calls for more subtle colors than does the white-skin-red-hair combination.

Dance the New Tango With Distinction

Which Couple Are You?

Swing into the tango! Look at Dorothy and Jack. They're glamorous as the dance itself, following its quick, decisive rhythms with head and shoulders gracefully at ease, no unnecessary motion above the hips.

You'd never believe they used to tango like the couple in the background. That was before they decided to perfect their dancing by practicing at home.

As the foot is slightly lifted, the tango calls for freer use of the knees than the fox-trot. But don't spoil the fun of fascinating dips and breaks by letting your knees sag.

And don't miss the spirit of the stimulating staccato music by burying your head abjectly on your partner's shoulder. Hold it high to express the pride and vitality of this romantic dance.

Win new popularity by teaching yourself modern ballroom dances at home. Our 32-page booklet gives full instructions and step-by-step diagrams for latest tangos, fox-trots, waltzes, rumbas.

Send 10c for your copy of Home Course in New Ballroom Dances to The Santa Ana Journal Home Service, 117 East Fifth St. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

VOLCANIC MUSHROOMS...

When molten lava is cooled quickly a glassy skin is formed on the surface which serves as an insulator against the interior heat of the lava mass. Thus, when molten lava flows over snow it does not melt into it. Quite the contrary, in fact, it aids in preserving the snow by forming an insulated covering against the heat of the sun.

Formations like those pictured in the cartoon often result from the protection given by chunks of lava. Thousands of these volcanic "mushrooms" were found around Mt. Etna after it erupted in 1910.

THE HUMAN ALMANAC...

Spelling such words as metamorphosis, paramethoxyquinolin is a mere "breeze" for Clarence Lea Tighe, the "Human Almanac" of Menard, Ill. His remarkable memory has stored up the correct spelling of approximately 100,000 words, many of them as long and little used as the foregoing one.

Gambling With a Swimmer's Life

Hereafter if you go swimming on the county's beaches on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday and drown, it's your own fault.

The much ballyhooed volunteer county lifeguard squad which was going to make swimming safe along the coastline has just installed hours that make John L. Lewis and his C. I. O. look like pikers.

Sheriff Logan Jackson is authority for the statement that the county life saving patrol and the newly purchased radio car will operate only on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

What brings this up is the drowning of a 16-year-old boy, Jesse Juniga, on the county beach east of Huntington Beach city limits.

Juniga drowned Wednesday afternoon. The county lifeguard patrol doesn't work Wednesdays.

Which makes it too bad for folks who like to swim in the earlier part of the week, because the water is just as wet and deep and cold then as it is later on.

We had been watching the new county life saving plan with a skeptical eye ever since the supervisors went hook, line and sinker for the idea.

In the first place, we didn't see how one man could cover a beach front 40 miles long even if he had a radio car and a load of resuscitation equipment.

If he was puttering around at Seal Beach waiting for somebody to get a cramp and yell for help, he wouldn't be much good to a poor swimmer caught in a rip tide at San Clemente.

Expecting one man to stretch from Los Angeles county to San Diego county and do an effective life saving job for the thousands who daily use the beaches was like sending a Singer's midget out to lift Washington's monument.

Of course, Lifeguard Lamb is supposed to have volunteer lifeguards—serving without pay—stationed along the waterfront watching for signs of a drowning.

These volunteers were supposed to relay in the call for aid to Lamb by telephoning the sheriff's office which is to broadcast the call over the air to Lamb's radio car.

But people aren't working regularly these days for no pay.

Ask any business man. Or better yet, try to hire somebody to mow your lawn for nothing.

Volunteers would be all right if they could be depended upon to do a thorough and regular job.

But that's the hitch. They can't be.

And even if they could, it's still a long way from Seal Beach to San Clemente.

Our suggestions to the supervisors are:

Put lifeguarding on a professional basis and stop expecting to get efficient and adequate service for nothing.

Extend the protection to week days as well as week-ends.

Human life is too valuable for the supervisors to gamble with through the present flimsy and inadequate protection service.

And if you don't think so, ask the grief-stricken parents of Young Jesse Juniga who drowned while the guards were taking one of their four week-day holidays.

The Chinese cabinet is called the Yuan. That would be an appropriate name for our congress, spelled as it is pronounced, of course.

You'll See a Marine Fairyland

Fill up the gasoline tank tomorrow evening and get yourself and the family ready to putt-putt down to glamorous Newport-Balboa Tournament of Lights.

It is to be the greatest marine spectacle ever offered, according to advance reports.

And don't be misled by the inference in another Santa Ana afternoon newspaper that the traffic situation will be so serious as to throw a crimp into your evening's pleasure.

Nothing of the sort is true.

As everyone knows, the state has just completed a new $180,000 overpass at the Coast highway and Newport boulevard, and this will do an enormous amount of good in lowering the pressure.

Of course, parking space will be at a premium. The peninsula and islands are limited in size and half the cars in Southern California may be trying to get on board. But parking space is hard to find any place any time there's a crowd.

Don't let yourself be fooled into believing that our good neighbors at Newport Beach haven't done and aren't doing a tremendous amount of work to make things easier for their guests tomorrow night.

Go, and you'll enjoy a spectacle combining the high spots of a starlit night, a flower garden, the lapping of the dark waves and a parade of illuminated vessels that rivals the dreams of fairyland.

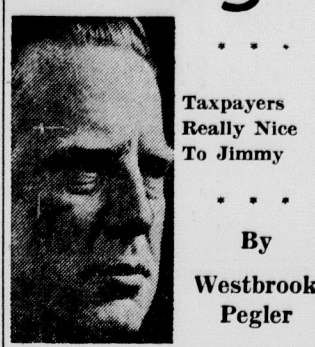

A bridge expert says there are no natural players. He is right. It takes practice to kick a person accurately under the table.

Keeping It In the Family

Gov. Bibb Graves of Alabama has appointed his wife to the U. S. senate as successor to Hugo Black, new justice of the supreme court.

That is REALLY keeping the money and political patronage in the family. And to think that indignation previously had been expressed because some politicians merely put their relatives into more or less minor jobs on the payroll.

FAIR Enough

Taxpayers Really Nice To Jimmy

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK. — As a reward for something over 22 years of employment in that which is facetiously known as the public service in New York, Jimmy Walker soon will be eligible for a pension of approximately one-third of his average pay for the last five years of his attachment to the public payrolls.

The pension will be around or about $12,000 a year, toward which he contributed, in his time, an amount estimated at $16,000. There appears to be some private feeling that Mr. Walker really does not deserve any pension, for he left town abruptly without troubling to explain certain matters which still may be regarded by the capacious as unfinished business, and his current employment is looked upon by some as artificial and a political expedient intended only to qualify him for the pension.

$240 PER WEEK

Nevertheless, the law and Tammany politics being as they are, Jimmy soon will be eligible for a weekly check of about $240 as long as he lives. He will continue to receive his $240 a week even though he is physically, mentally and professionally able to earn a first class living at private employment, and this $240 a week will be immune to the federal income tax.

A very attractive service says you. Aye, an elegant service: the service of the public interest (and when you say that, smile), and a fine way to provide against old age. And, although, Mr. Walker, for his honest efforts on behalf of his fellow citizens, will be placed among the aristocrats of the pension roll, he may not be top man, even so.

He may be a few dollars under Charles W. Berry, who used to be comptroller at a very fair rate of pay, and who draws $12,425 a year, free of the federal tax. Mr. Berry put $25,362 into the pension kitty over the years of his relationship with the public treasury, and it was a grand investment, so it was. He gets it all back in a couple of years of retirement, and beyond that the pension is gravy.

ANOTHER INVESTOR

John P. O'Brien, who served a short piece as mayor after Mr. Walker hurried away to suffer and pine on the Riviera and in London, also does very well in investment. He put in $26,185 and draws $11,989 a year now. Having been retired for three and one-half years he has already withdrawn all he put into the pot and is now a distinguished guest of the taxpayers at the rate of more than $200 a week.

The late Judge Dan Noble, a surrogate of Queens, was another who received a fine reward, for he contributed $13,475 and drew a pension of $12,002 for more than seven years. You see, you can, another community on earth which equals the gratitude of New York's citizens toward those who draw their pay out of the tax money.

The firemen, drawing around $3000 a year, are eligible for retirement after 20 years on half pay, and the policemen may do the same after 25 years. Thus many an able fireman and cop quits the force in the prime of life with a guaranteed income which other workers in private employment in the same salary brackets could not hope to put aside and goes into the job-market to underbid men in need of work to earn a living.

The higher officers of the fire and police departments, of course, draw proportionately higher pensions, but the more they get, the less eager they are to retire, which is natural. Yet those who do retire—and some have retired just in time to avoid the embarrassment of trial and possible loss of all pension rights—often find idleness irksome and take private hire in competition with those who have to pay the taxes to provide their pensions.

NICE OF TAXPAYERS

Disability or old age is no condition of retirement on pension in New York, and a man who has served, say five years before observing the handwriting on the wall, may step out with an annuity as steady as the taxpayers' taxes, of one-twelfth of his pay. Not a living to be sure, but a nice little gratuity from the public to a faithful servant whose task may have been nothing more than to answer the phone in some deputy commissioner's office and say, "he's gone to the polo grounds."

There is no sense of scandal over Mr. Walker's pension or the manner in which he has been qualified for it through an appointment about as brazen as anything that Tammany ever has done in town. Oh, there is a little editorial indignation, but the general sentiment obviously is that $12,000 a year won't break us, and what if he did do what Seabury said he did? What do you want for a mayor, a reformer?

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON. — President Roosevelt and Sen. William E. Borah will cross swords next month in a dramatic debate over the Constitution.

The fight against the supreme court reorganization plan, and one of the authors of the scolding report of the senate judiciary committee, will speak on the night of Sept. 16. The President will follow him on the air the next night.

Both speeches nominally will be in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the constitution, and on the surface will have no relation to each other. Actually, however, the two national leaders will engage in a forensic duel.

Borah plans to devote much of his address to a defense of his opposition to the defeated court bill. The President's speech will be in the nature of a reply to the attack on the bill. Also, if he follows the advice of his more militant counselors, he will serve notice on his foes that he has not abandoned the program and intends to return to the wars at an opportune moment.

NEW COURT FIGHT

The President definitely expects to renew the court fight next session. What form his move will take has not been decided, but some attempt to revive his far-reaching scheme is certain.

Borah will speak under the auspices of the Masons. The organization's original plan was to have the President and a member of the supreme court talk on the same program. Roosevelt declined on the ground that he was already dated up, and no justice would accept the invitation.

The President's speech will be under the joint auspices of the U. S. Constitution sesquicentennial commission and the Good Neighbor league which campaigned for him last year. The league's director, Stanley High, recently resigned, and a drive is now under way to enlarge its membership.

WELL-FOUNDED STORY

That angry White House statement, denying that the President is meddling in the turbulent New York municipal election, unquestionably is true. Nevertheless, the newsmen who reported that backers of Judge Jeremiah T. Mahoney, anti-Tammany Democrat, were seeking Roosevelt's support, had plenty of authority for their stories.

Their source of information was none other than Edward J. Flynn, Bronx boss and chief Mahoney sponsor. Emerging from his conference with the President at Hyde Park, Flynn intimated to correspondents, with a knowing smile, that Roosevelt was in his man's corner in the battle-royal among Mayor La Guardia, Senator Copeland, and Mahoney. The newsmen, naturally, did not hesitate to "shoot the works" with a story coming from such an authoritative quarter.

Their reports in next morning's papers infuriated the President. He summoned them and read them a caustic lecture on "gossip mongering" and spreading "false rumors." As the rebuke was "off the record," the reporters had to take it and say nothing.

Later, under the name of the White House Secretary Marvin McIntyre, the President issued a statement of the President's neutrality in the New York scramble.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent, fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So the very citizen may help his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion. The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag.

ART IN LAGUNA

To the Editor of The Santa Ana Journal and its many readers who have read the article by Paul Mooney, that delightful, mirth-provoking criticism about the Laguna Beach Art association:

As an exhibiting member of the Gallery, I feel that the public should know just how correctly Mr. Mooney has recorded the same words that have been written millions of times in the past about particularly every now called "Old Master" in the history of art. May I recall that the great Leonardo de Vinci while working on the well-known "Last Supper" was called away to fix the bathtub for a duchess? The horrible thing leaked, and she could not have her bath until the plumber, the "fix man," De Vinci, came to her aid—he built a few bridges, too, on the side.

Once the master of etchers and painters, James McNeil Whistler, was called to bat by that fluent critic, Ruskin, about a mess called Nocturne, Black and Gold, The Floating Rocket. "For Mr. Whistler's eyes are less than for the protection of the purchaser, Sir Coutts Lindsay ought not to have admitted works into the gallery in which the ill-educated conceit of the artist so nearly approached the aspect of willful imposture. I have seen and heard much of cockney impudence before now, but never expected to hear a coxcomb ask 200 guineas for flinging a pot of paint in the public's face." Whistler sued and won.

Then, may I recall the painter, Turner, whose picture, "Burial at Sea," was described, "Though there is a striking effect, still the whole is so idealized and removed from truth that, instead of the feeling it ought to effect, that it only excites ridicule." It has been stated that the illustrator, James Montgomery Flagg, said that he was not an artist, he just painted pictures.

Frank Brangwyn was a sailor for many years before he turned only to painting.

Every man who has done his best to understand, though at the risk of betraying his or her ignorance, has the right to say how he likes what he sees or hears or tastes. The opinions of some are worth more than those of others; and these opinions, with the reasons therefore, we are delighted to hear. That is really all there is to a formal critics' column.

Napoleon once said "to be great was to be criticized." Nothing on earth is of no more importance to the American public than the opinions of factions. Nothing can be more beneficial to art, to make the American public more conscious for years the average home held a print or two from last year's calendar, a lithograph color print of perhaps "The Gleaners" of "Hope."

Then, too, there was that group of three scared public has the newspaper reading public has forgotten there were artists who painted pictures, made original prints to hang in their homes, that the man who did most of those "39c complete with frame and glass" pictures were dead, and the fellow who turned out at least hopeful picture or print was hurriedly thrown off the magazine covers, torn them off and hung up one or two in their bedrooms with a safety pin, but little did they know there were people who were very human folks that made pictures for sale at reasonable prices. Rembrandt traded paintings for bread, and I do not believe there is a living artist today would could not swap his labors for something he or she could use.

One reason for much of our different trends toward what is sometimes called modernism, I believe, is the fellow who is just trying to get to the public. I do say that it is strange that the artists of Laguna Beach and its Art association should possess some "fixalls"—perhaps a few men and women who could do something else besides paint an easle picture maybe a house painter or a sign painter. It is rather strange, but I cannot help remembering the words of the grand showman, George M. Cohan, "I don't care what you say about me so long as you mention my name."

QUESTIONS CHIEF'S TRIP
To the Editor: In groping through the maze of dollar break-fasts and dollar and a half lunches, as a taxpayer in Santa Ana, I cannot quite figure out just what a city chief of police is doing on the job of returning a county prisoner.

At the same time that a bumper crop is reported—totaling over two and a half billion bushels—a new record is being hung up in the importation of corn.

Officials thought they had seen the top in the week ending July 16, when 3,856,000 bushels arrived at U. S. ports. That was an all-time record.

But two weeks later this record was smashed when a total of 5,183,000 bushels arrived. The total for the four weeks was 14,600,000 bushels.

Most of this corn comes from Argentina, but other countries have been edging into the market, notably South Africa, Yugoslavia, Rumania, and Brazil.

Imports will continue to be heavy for some months to come, in spite of the bumper domestic crop, since U. S. corn will not reach the market until late in the fall.

WHIMSIES

With O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK. — Thoughts while strolling: Teaching sex in schools somehow always amuses me. Most of the boys in our town could teach the professors. The actor with a seat on the stock exchange: George Price. Save for Dick Maney, no spectacular press agents like Harry Reichenbach anymore.

Rhyme: Girls named Kay are usually gay. Confused blue collarists: John, Golden, Arthur, William Brown and Richard Watts, jr. And then there's the pink-collared Ham Fisher. The late Jim Dooling was the most erudite of Tammany leaders yet looked like a broken down pug.

Whenever we try to tell a funny story to a crowd, everybody begins to look like Ned Sparks and Stan Laurel. Wonder how many other grown-ups now and then get a sudden yen for jellybeans? Gene, the head man at the Colony, suggests J. P. Morgan in younger days.

If there is anyone in any trade who has salvaged more fun out of life than James Montgomery Flagg, he's escaped our eye. Adela Rogers St. John sounds like falling down three steps. Beatrice Lillie could wear almost any ordinary-sized finger ring as a necklace.

Pontifical radio announcer: Bill Hay. Add efficient secretaries: Will Hays' Julia Kelly, Major Bowes' Bessie Mack and Roy Howard's Miss Lowensohn. A group of pretty girls sighing in front of a Fred Astaire poster near Music Hall. I'm as skinny and have more hair than he—but nary a glance.

The most indefatigable first nighters are Hope Hampton and her movie magnate husband, Jules Brulauter. If in town, they never miss a premiere, occupying a choice pew down front, all plushed up in the quaintest of the millionaire and the former Philadelphia department store girl is one of the sagas of Broadway. He has spent snug fortunes priming her for a career on the screen, stage and grand opera and she has developed not only a histrionic powers but a voice highly bespoken by European critics. Yet, somehow or other, she just missed clicking in a big way.

Few who loved publicity had so much of it after passing on as Ziegfeld. There is the theater bearing his name, the Ziegfeld Girls Clubs in all large cities and, of course, the film, The Great Ziegfeld, which carried his name to every remote corner. A Tom book, recounting his theatrical career are in the making. He was more spectacular in death than in life.

I knew much about the great circus trapezeist, Alfredo Codona, who killed his wife and was developed, through Courtney Riley Cooper, his closest friend outside the profession. The love of his life was Lillian Leitzel, the aerialist, killed in a fall in Copenhagen. The tragedy of her passing had the Cooper without saying a word. Then he tried for happiness again with marriage and the management of his old act. But his efforts failed.

Charles Hanson Towne's favorite little park known as Tryon, nestled just off the Main and Heights, has had success displaying an old legend in a neat sign:

Let no one say
And say it to your shame
That all was beauty here
Until you came.

From the time the sign was installed, employees noticed a strain of visitors in littering walks and lawns.

A Broadway generating ground for the wisecrack is a barber shop near the Strand theater where song writers, gag and radio script men and sundry noddies get to be tonsored. All day long it is a crackle, like cross-fire vaudeville patter, from chair to chair. Among those who drop in for laughs are Major Bowes, Irving Berlin, Lou Holtz, Abe Lyman, Harry Richman and Phil Bak. One is immune from the ribbing.

From a magazine story. The poor waiter, with a sweep of his arm, brushed salt, pepper shakers and the mustard jar into his lap and that could be said?

SCIENCE NEWS

An abrasive attachment, just placed on the market, makes it possible for you to sharpen your lawn mower at home. By simply stepping on the handle, you lift the wheels off the ground, slip the sharpener across the crossbar. While one hand presses the abrasive against the wheel, the other is used to turn the cutters. Sharpening is done in very short time.

Bright Moments

Benjamin Franklin was attending a banquet in Paris, when there as a representative of the government, and was asked by the Abbe Reynal, "What description of man most deserves pity?" Some mentioned one character or some other. When it came Franklin's turn, he said: "A lonesome man on a rainy day who does not know how to read."
